RECORDS BROKEN BY U. S. VOTERS

JUNK YARD ORDINANCE ENACTED

PERMIT FEE BOOSTED BY CITY CODE

Dealers Must Now Pay $150 Each Year

SALES TO BE RECORDED

Location of Business Places up to City Manager

In the face of criticism from a hostile gallery of property owners demanding restriction of junk yards in residential districts, city commission Monday night increased the junk yard license fee 233 percent, ordered enclosed yards and placed sufficient authority in the city manager's hands to ultimately force junk dealers out of business or into locations designated expressly for such purposes.

To the echo of scathing rebukes that commissioners should align themselves with "sealskin row" and disregard the public health and safety of S. Central-av and Circular-st residents whose property valuations are lowered by the invasion of junk yards with their disease carrying vermin, the city legislative body enacted the junk yard ordinance proposed by Solicitor Paul T. Landis without changes. The ordinance provides:

That every junk shop or yard operated in the city must be in accordance with a license approved and issued by the city manager.

HIGH LICENSE

That the license fee shall be increased from $35 annually to $150 annually, payable in advance.

Each junk shop proprietor shall maintain a record of all sales and purchases, open at all times to police inspection and to inspection of others interested.

Location of each junk yard must be approved by the city manager before the permit is issued.

Storage of old rags, paper or bones for any considerable length of time is prohibited.

Fences or retaining walls must be erected to prevent junk from falling onto streets.

Alleys leading into such yards or shops must be utilized for loading and unloading purposes, leaving the streets and sidewalks clear for motorized and pedestrian travel.

No gasoline tanks or inflammable material shall be stored in the junk yards.

HEAVY FINE

Despite opposition of the property owners near junk yards, commissioners carried out their formulated program and Police Chief T. A. Lanker Tuesday morning started to enforce the measure as it was enacted as an emergency clause and became effective upon passage.

Upon advice of Solicitor Landis the $500 license fee proposed by Commissioners Earl Rohn, the father of the junk yard war, and J. J. Rankin, was sliced to $150, payable in advance. This is an increase of $115 over the former license of $35 and an increase of $50 over the license fee of a year ago which culminated in legal controversy with dealers.

Report of "shady transactions" by certain junk dealers in the city formed the basis for the requirement that complete records of all sales and purchases be maintained. One junk dealer told commissioners he has kept such records for the past 10 years.

Police claim that if access to records is permissable the chances for sale of stolen property would be lessened and, in connection with the same clause governing second hand automobile dealers, the accessory thefts in the city would be curbed to some extent.

Authority of the city manager in restriction of junk yards is practically unlimited in the absence of a zoning code, which would automatically restrict such enterprises. The city manager has authority to issue or refuse licenses. While such authority would not directly effect present dealers it tends to curb expansion, and new year when new licenses are sought the city manager has authority to refuse such licenses and automatically force junk dealers to operate their establish-

IRON RULE AT NILES HOLDS

Troops Stand Guard as the Town Casts Vote

BULLETIN

NILES, O.—(By Associated Press)—Following persistent reports reaching the ears of Colonel L. S. Connelly of Cleveland in charge of national guardsmen here that "men were killed in the Ku Klux Klan and anti-klan riot of Saturday and their bodies spirited away," search with grappling irons probably will be made of Mosquito creek, near where the fighting between the factions was hottest. Colonel Conhelly said he would not be surprised if one or more bodies were found.

NILES, Ohio — (By United Press) — Niles awoke today to find its election as well as its administration under the iron rule of martial law. Fearing further outbreaks of the nature of those experienced here Saturday, when antagonism between the klan and Knights of the Flaming Circle broke forth in riot, Ohio guardsmen kept watch as Niles cast her ballot.

Maj. Gen. Benson W. Hough, in command of the city, kept a flying squadron of guardsmen at military headquarters in city hall ready for action at the first intimation of disorder. No trouble was reported during the early hours of voting.

Of approximately 1200 troops ordered here Saturday night, about 200 are still in the city. Political antagonism between the two factions which clashed Saturday was responsible for holding troops, General Hough said.

While examination of witnesses continued by military intelligence board, with County Prosecutor Harvey Burgess sittting in, investigation of recent disorders was being concluded on another score. Investigators sent to Niles immediately after the bombing of the home of Mayor Harvey C. Kistler early Wednesday said they expect to make arrests before the day is over.

They have learned, they said, the identity of several men in connection with the dynamiting and need to locate one witness before making arrests.

A surprise is promised when the arrests are made. The chief of investigators declined to amplify the statement.

More than 30 witnesses had been examined last night by the military board and more are to be called today in the effort to ferret out the guilty persons in the rioting Saturday.

Military authorities today arrested a man who gave the name of Louis Long after an attack on a group of national guardsmen. Bricks were hurled at the guardsmen and one of the soldiers was injured.

Three other men are held on gun-toting charges.

BANK TELLER SURRENDERS

CLEVELAND—Forest W. Taylor, 31, bank teller, was arrested today while on his way to give himself up on a charge of embezzling approximately $4,000 from the Alliance Trust Co. here. Taylor disappeared from Cleveland August 17 with $800 of the bank's money and discrepancies in his books that covered the remainder of the $4,000, police say he told them in an alleged statement.

HEAVY VOTE IN COUNTY PREDICTED

Early Balloting Reported in Precincts of City

FARMERS VISIT POLLS

28,000 Count in Allen-co is Expected by Officials

Election day dawned bright and clear in Allen-co, despite advance weather reports which predicted partly cloudy conditions. The atmosphere, cool and crisp, gave the voters early impetus to visit the polls.

From all over Lima reports of early voting rolled into the board of elections. It was estimated that by noon more than 40 per cent of the registered vote, or about 7,400 persons, had voted.

Joseph M. Madigan, chairman of the board of elections, predicted at noon after a brief survey of the city that the vote this year will exceed that of four years ago and that the total vote for county and city may total 28,000.

Bright weather while calculated to bring out a heavy city vote may tend to keep many farmers away from the polls. The farmers are busy husking and shocking corn and getting in fall plowing. There is also some wheat sowing still in progress due to the late season.

The reports from the county, however, indicate that good weather or not there will be a big vote cast.

VOTING IS HEAVY

East precinct in American-tp early predicted that out of a total registration of more than 300, more than 100 had voted at 8:30 a. m. Advance predictions were that the farmers would largely vote in the morning and work in their fields in the afternoon.

Reports to the election board from city precincts show that a numbers of voters who were not registered, tried to vote, and several precincts reported voters who had registered but had moved away, returned to vote, having failed to transfer.

Four years ago the vote in Lima was 16,022, and for the entire county, $26,677. The G. O. P. presidential vote in the city was 8,556; Democratic 7,099; Socialist 363; single tax 4. The Socialist vote this year, it is believed, will be largely cast for Lafollette.

Outside of Lima four years ago Harding received 5,359 votes and Cox 4,559. The G. O. P. majority for the county was 2,257.

In the 1920 governorship battle on the other hand, while Harry Davis carried Lima with a margin of 450 votes, or about 1,000 behind the national ticket, he lost the county to Donahey by 64 votes. Their standings were: Donahey 12,755; Davis 12,691. With the two same candidates battling Tuesday, interest centers in the outcome of their second contest.

No indication as to how the two county tickets were faring could be gleaned. Some candidates apparently are holding their own, while others have been heavy losers by eleventh hour defactions.

Elements in both parties are at work. With party lines dropped to a large extent in local issues, the tickets will be slashed out of semblance to the vote on state and national issues. The condition makes the result of more than one race doubtful, until the count is finally made.

Polls will close promptly at 5:30 p. m. and counting will commence at once. The winners should be largely determined before 1 a. m. Wednesday.

Long Odds In Big Election

NEW YORK — (By United Press)—"A flood of money" to bet at odds of 11 to 1 that President Coolidge will be elected was reported by J. S. Fried & Co., Broad-st brokers today.

One prominent Democrat of Richmond Hills bet $7,500 to $500—odds of 15 to 1—on Coolidge, the brokerage house stated.

Odds that Gov. Smith would be re-elected were 2 1-2 to 1, J. S. Fried said, while the odds against Senator LaFollette in the National election were 35 to 1.

The brokers hold some money to bet at 10 to 1 that the election would not go into the house.

MRS. HARDING IS "SOME BETTER"

New Complications Develop; Concern is Felt

MARION, Ohio — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of President Harding, who has been seriously ill for the last two weeks, was better today. Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician said in a statement issued this morning. Mrs. Harding had a fairly good night's rest, and ate a hearty breakfast, Dr. Sawyer said.

MARION, Ohio — (By Associated Press) — New complications, yet undefined, are causing considerable apprehension today to physicians attending Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of the late president, who was taken ill a week ago at the Sawyer sanitarium here, where she has been making her home.

Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, who is in charge of Mrs. Harding's case, announced today that the disease is a recurrence of the same malady, kidney trouble, which almost caused her death early in the spring of 1922 while she was mistress of the White House.

A statement issued last night by Dr. Sawyer said Mrs. Harding was "some better" after resting well yesterday but "new complications have developed which are yet undefined."

Shock a few weeks ago caused by the sudden death of Dr. C. E. Sawyer, President Hardin's personal physician who attended the president in his last illness at San Francisco is thought to have brought on yesterday's attack.

At the time of Dr. Sawyer's funeral Mrs. aHrding's friends expressed considerable concern over her when she insisted, against advice of physicians, in helping make all arrangements for the funeral and took active charge of details. Altho at the time she showed no ill effects of her activity, the first since Mr. Hardin's death, it is believed she overtaxed her strength bringing on her present serious illness.

HOMER WHITE IS NAMED HEAD OF YAMILO CLUB

Homer Z. White, of the "Rusty Mug" party, was elected president of the Yamilo club at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night. White succeeds Al W. Wistner.

E. W. Abshire, of the "Dirty Shirts," was named secretary, while F. M. Ballard, a member of the "Rusty Mugs," was chosen as treasurer.

Installation of the men will be held at next week's meeting.

President Gets Almost Entire Vote In Village

NEW ASHFORD, Mass.—(By United Press)—First returns in today's national election were recorded here half an hour after the polls opened. The result was:

Coolidge 20; Davis 4.

There were 30 registered voters in New Ashford, but one was ill and the other five were out of town. The entire 24 voting lined up at the polls before 6:30 a. m. and less than an hour later, the election board announced the result.

Four years ago there were 36 registered voters and the result was Harding 28; Cox 6.

In 1916 the result was: Hughes 16; Wilson 7.

GOES FOR COOLIDGE

SOMERSET, Vt.—(By Associated Press)—The vote of this town for president was:

Coolidge 8; Davis none; LaFollette none.

The vote four years ago was: Harding 20; Cox 5.

Four men and their wives, the sole voting population, cast their votes for Coolidge. This second announcement by any town in the country, was made possible by agreement of all the voters to cast their ballots the first thing this morning for Vermont's native son.

MANY KILLED IN WRECK

LYTHAM, Eng. — Rescuers worked thruout the night in the glare of locomotive headlights taking bidies from the splintered wreckage of the Liverpool-Blackburn express which left the rails while going 40 miles an hour, killing from 12 to 16 passengers and injuring 33. Eleven bodies had been recovered by noon.

BUS CRASH ENDS LIVES OF 11

Big Car Demolished by Train —Details Lacking

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. — (By Associated Press) — Only four of the fifteen persons in a bus struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train late yesterday at a blind crossing in Northampton remained alive today and only one of those, an infant, was thought to have a fair chance to recover. Eight were dead before rescuers arrived and three others died shortly afterward.

Few details of the accident were obtainable during the night. Ben Catlin, engineer of the train which was making a speed of about 45 miles an hour, said the first indication he had that the bus was on the tracks was the crash. None of the survivors could be interviewed, and a coroner's jury, after viewing the scene, decided not to hold its inquest until tomorrow.

The bus, which operated between Hampton and Poquoson, Va., was struck squarely in the center and demolished, bodies of the dead and injured and fragments of the wrecked car being scattered along the tracks for several hundred yards.

MAN DISAPPEARS HERE; POLICE AID ENLISTED

Police aid has been enlisted in a search for John F. Burris, of 206 W. North-st, who disappeared Saturday night. A quiet search was conducted by his son-in-law, C. S. Archer, for two days. Police were asked to help as a last resort.

Burris is described as being 55 years of age, six feet tall, weighing 170 pounds and wearing a gray suit and a brown hat.

The News Election Service

As is its custom, The Lima News will be equipped tonight for giving the public the fastest and most accurate service possible on the election, national, state and county.

Three special Associated Press leased wires will pour the election news for the state and nation into The News Office. The large staff of this paper, augmented for the occasion, will handle the local returns.

The first edition of The News will be on the streets tonight at 10 p. m., the earliest hour at which authentic reports will be possible. This will give the trend of the vote, but of course, not the final results. The next edition will go to press between 2 and 3 a. m. and will have almost all, if not all, of the local returns, the state vote and probably the complete returns on the vote for president. An edition with complete totals will be issued at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday and then the home edition final Wednesday afternoon will clean up the biggest election in the history of the country.

The public is invited to call this office tonight for news of the election, which will be furnished by a corps of telephone operators.

MILLIONS CAST BALLOTS TO UNRAVEL BIG TANGLE

Troops Out To Insure Honest State Election

LAS VEGAS, N. M. — (By Associated Press) — Martial law was proclaimed in San Miguel-co, of which Las Vegas is the county seat, last night by Governor J. F. Hinkle, who in a statement to newspapers said:

"There is going to be an honest election in San Miguel-co, even if troops are necessary to supervise the polls. I mean to see that the people have the opportunity to vote without intimidation."

The decision to send troops here was due, it was said, to feeling aroused over the suspension recently by D. J. Leahy, district judge, of Sheriff Lorenz Delgado.

Davis Votes, Then Goes to the Golf Course

WASHINGTON IS QUIET

President at Routine—LaFollette on Farm

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press)—John W. Davis took a holiday today.

To visitors who called at his home in Locust Valley, Davis appeared obviously gratified that the campaign grind was over. He expressed confidence in the decision the electorate was making at the polls but was equally relieved that his personal role had come to an end.

Even the task of the citizen voter rested but lightly upon him. He motored to Glen Cove early in the day and cast his ballot. Then within a short time he was out on the golf course at play.

To those who greeted him at the club house, the candidate remarked that he hoped he would prove a better golfer than he had been a campaigner. He admitted the need of physical exercise and recreation and declared his intention to make up in the days ahead for the neglect he had been guilty of in this respect during the past several months.

Later he returned to his home and spent the remainder of the day with Mrs. Davis and his family. He planned in the early evening to motor to the home of Frank L. Polk, in New York City, to receive the election returns in company with a few intimate friends.

ROUTINE FOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—The usual calm of voteless Washington prevailed today at the White house as the nation went to the polls.

President and Mrs. Coolidge made out their votes on absentee voters' ballots and mailed them to Northampton, Mass., their home, last week, and little was left for the president to do today except to attend to the routine of his office and await the first returns.

In a radio speech to perhaps the largest audience ever addressed by one person, Coolidge last night appealed to all American voters to go to the polls today to insure a rule of the majority and protect the institution of self-government.

Urging all citizens "without reference to party" to exercise their rights today, he said minority rule is a "peril" to the nation. He called upon all voters to act "solely in the light of their own conscience" and to approach the ballot box "in the spirit they would approach a sacrament and there, disregarding all appeals to passion and prejudices, dedicate themselves truly and wholly to the welfare of their country."

Tonight, in the early part of the evening, at least, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston, their guests, will receive election returns sent to the executive mansion over special wires. It is expected the radio set in the White house also will be used for following the count.

AWAITS VERDICT

MADISON, Wis.—(By Associated Press)—Senator Robert M. La Follette today awaited at his Maple Bluff farm the verdict of the American voters on the presidential campaign.

MANY FACTORS IN VOTING

Fate of Congress Attracts Nation-Wide Attention

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press) — President Coolidge expects a vote in the electoral college of at least 350 and a Republican working majority in the house next session of twenty or more, it was said today at the White House.

* * *

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—The largest electorate that ever cast a vote in a nation undertook today the task of unraveling the most puzzling tangle in modern American political history.

With three major candidates in the field for president; with a full membership of the house to be chosen; with 34 senators and governors to be elected, and with thousands of lesser offices to be filled, the twenty-odd millions voters of the nation began the march to the polls at dawn and thruout the length and breadth of the land, under generally fair weather conditions, they continued all day to record their will.

Four months of fervid oratory, charges, recriminations, accusations, claims, predictions and warnings were stored in the thoughts of the voters as they marked their decisions on the ballots.

Ringing in their ears were the final pleas of the three major aspirants for the presidency. The Republican and Democratic standard bearers, Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis, established a precedent in political campaigning by addressing an eleventh hour radio appeal last night to an audience that reached from coast to coast. Senator La Follette, the independent candidate, closed his case with a statement to the voters.

COOLIDGE URGES VOTING

President Coolidge's plea was one to urge every qualified citizen to vote today.

"We shall always have with us," he said, "an element of discontent inspired with more zeal than knowledge. They are greatly in the minority. But their number is large enough to be a decisive factor in many elections unless it is offset by the sober second thought of the people who have something at stake, whether it be earnings from investment or from employment, who are considering not only their own welfare, but the welfare of their children and coming generations."

Davis again recited the policies to which he has devoted a fighting campaign.

"Every one of us," he said, "who will but listen to the voice of conscience, can say what is right and what is wrong. We owe it to ourselves and to our country; we owe it to our children and those who shall come after us, to vote accordingly. Will the fathers and mothers of the country be satisfied to set before their children who are to take up the burden of citizenship any lesser standard than one of common honesty?"

Senator La Follette challenged again "this time-honored thesis of industrial depression" as a factor in the election, and charged that President Coolidge had authorized the Republican national committee to run an "elect me or starve" campaign.

"The American people," he said, "have learned their lesson and will not be whipped into line with this stone age propaganda. Neither will they permit the boodling of the election by a huge slush fund."

WIDE CAMPAIGN WAGED

In addition to the urging of the presidential candidates for every citizen to go to the polls, an effort was made by hundreds of organizations to "get out the vote." Republicans, Democrats, Independents, women's organizations, almost every variety of political group exerted itself to swell the total of ballots cast to anything ever seen in an American election.

President Coolidge passed the day in the White House silently awaiting the return of confident, and even planning for a new tenure of office. Both Mrs. Coolidge had mailed their ballots to their Northampton, Mass., home.

Davis, declaring the Democratic ticket would be returned as it deserved to win, voted in Locust Valley, L. I., and remained to receive the returns in that there.

MOCK ELECTION IS HELD

Central High Students Receive Instructions on Voting

BALLOT COUNT TUESDAY

Classes Cast Votes Without Using School Time

A mock election carried on by the Seniors in the Civics classes was held Tuesday at Central High school. All the pupils in the High schools were eligible to vote as well as the teachers.

Seven precincts were used and as the voter entered the board of elections he was asked the number of his room, what year he was in, and then escorted to the election stand where he was given a ballot and taken to a booth where he could make his selection. The method of voting was thoroly explained so that no mistakes could be made. Any incorrect ballots will be destroyed when the votes are counted in this evening.

STATE ISSUES

In another room quite apart from the general elections a senior board presided and separated the votes as they came in. This took much care as there were twelve national issues as well as the state and county official ballots.

No extra time was taken to carry on the election. The lower classmen voted when coming and going to classes while only the regular Civics period was used for the seniors. In this way every student gained some knowledge of election board work.

It was thought by carrying on election in the High school and working up party enthusiasm in the pupils, that in the future there would be more enlightened voters, better citizens and less corruption in public offices.

Only the history classes in the senior class held election at South High school and usual routine work was carried out. Those in charge of the election at Central are: H. W. Leech, principal; Miss Reilly and Miss Chevington, Civics teacher.

REVISION BOARD NAMED

Hulsken, Green and Bentz to Pass on Permits

Board of revision to determine true estimates on all building in Lima before city permits are issued was appointed Monday night by city commission upon recommendation of City Manager C. A. Bingham.

The board consists of Peter M. Hulsken, architect; Ora Green, contractor, and Frank Bentz, real estate dealer.

The board will function here in an endeavor to prevent builders from securing building permits at false estimates from one half to one-third of the actual cost of construction. When a permit is sought the estimates will go to the board of revision and upon the recommendation of that body the city manager will act, either granting or refusing the permit.

"I am confident that progress will win."

Aside from an automobile trip to Madison with members of his family to vote, Senator La Follette's program called for a day of ease on the farm.

"It's been a great campaign, and I enjoyed it more than any campaign I have ever been thru," he told neighbors with whom he chatted in the barn yard. "It took me a few weeks to hit my stride and I wish I could go on. It's been a great campaign — a great campaign."

CANTON, O. — (Special) — An Italian lad doffed his hat and gazed admiringly at the Statue of Liberty as the immigrant boat steamed in. Its graceful lines fascinated him.

"Mother America," he vowed, "give me the power to do something great for you."

Louis Abbenante—for that was his name—had been in this country only a few weeks when the death of the president's younger son, Calvin Jr., plunged the nation in mourning.

"I will make a statue of the boy to comfort his mother's heart," Louis told his new friends here.

Writing direct to Mrs. Coolidge, he obtained three photographs of her dead son. Then he began work on his statue.

Today he has finished his model. It is now being cast, in plaster of paris. Soon it will be plated in bronze.

And Louis will take it to Washington himself. He is not going to trust it to a train. He and his brother will drive direct to the White House and present it personally to Mrs. Coolidge.

PLAGUE TAKES 4 MORE LIVES

Death List Increased to 25—Fight Continues

LOS ANGELES — (By Associated Press) — The death total since the outbreak of pneumonic plague in the Mexican quarter here October 19 had been increased to twenty-five today by four fatal cases reported yesterday. Health officers continued efforts to bring under quarantine every person known to have been in contact with sufferers from the disease.

Five patients were under treatment at the general hospital; fifteen square blocks of the Mexican and Chinese sections were under strict police cordons, an isolated house on the edge of the main business district was under quarantine and another sector under guard was in Belvidere, about eight miles from here in the county.

The Los Angeles-co board of supervisors yesterday appropriated $25,000 to carry on the epidemic eradication program and at a conference of public health officials with Mayor George E. Cryer, it was decided to place the situation in the hands of a committee of federal, state, county and city health authorities headed by Dr. Walter M. Dickie, executive secretary of the state board of health.

JUNK YARD LAW ENACTED

ments in locations designated by the city.

FENCES ORDERED

One regulatory measure to be strictly enforced by city officials is the section demanding the erection of retaining walls or fences around junk yards. This provision was entered in the ordinance to eliminate the scattering of junk on city property and streets as has been the practice in recent months creating a danger hazard.

Property owners in their demands before commission asked that the junk yards be declared public nuisances and the proprietors ordered to discontinue business in the residential districts and be allotted a certain section on the outskirts of the city where properties would not be endangered.

"Junk yards," the citizen's committee stated, "harbor rats and other disease carrying vermin. The committee referred to the invasion of roaches of houses on Eureka-st and insisted that the ordinance allowed too many loopholes for junk dealers.

Commissioners after enactment of the measure stated that the law is regulatory in its scope and cannot be discriminatory as citizens demanded in seeking to force junk dealers out of business.

ROBBERIES CHARGED

VOTERS BREAK ALL RECORDS

The vice presidential candidates, all of whom have been under the strain of weeks of campaigning, found themselves adjacent to voting booths on election, except for Senator Wheeler, the independent candidate, who took advantage of the mail voting privilege to send his ballot to Montana. Charles G. Dawes, President Coolidge's running mate, voted in Evanston, Ill., and Governor Charles W. Bryan, the Democratic choice for vice president, returned to Lincoln, Neb., in time to cast his ballot.

One of the most tangled aspects of today's balloting, which will not be solved, probably for several days, is the problem presented by the splitting of tickets. Even with the voting in progress, there was no one able to predict with any air of confidence the trend that angle of the balloting might take.

ELECT NEW HOUSE

There are 435 seats in the house, of which the Republicans now hold 229, counting the La Follette group, and the Democrats 206, and in the voting today in various parts of the country there are alignments, endorsements and unusual alliances between political groups which even the most sophisticated politicians hesitate to forecast the complexion of the next house, altho both Democrat and Republican managers have formally pledged their claims of victory.

The entry into the situation of the railroad brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor in support of Senator La Follette and their action at the same time in working for the election of various members of congress favorable to labor legislation is another factor which it has been hard for the political prophet to fathom. Both the Republican and Democratic managers have scouted the idea that labor would desert the older parties. Today's results will throw an interesting light on the trend of modern political thought.

One possibility, widely discussed in the campaign, has been that of a deadlock in the electoral vote. The individual voter does not vote directly for a president, but for a group of electors to represent the state and cast the state's proportionate vote for president. The original theory of the constitution was that the electors thus chosen would follow their own inclinations in choosing a chief executive. In practice, however, it has become an unbroken tradition that an elector votes for the candidate of that party to which he belongs.

Should an insufficient number of states to choose a president give their support to any one party, and should all of the electors follow tradition and vote for the candidate of their party, the work of the entire group of electors would go for nothing. There would be a deadlock and under the constitution the house of representatives would be called upon to choose a president and the senate a vice president. The presidential election, should it be thrown into the house, would be delayed under a constitutional provision until February.

SENATORS ARE NAMED

The Republicans now have 49 seats in the senate, a bare majority of one, and that number includes the LaFollette group. The Democrats hold 43 places and the Farmer-Labor party two. Today nine solid Democratic states elect senators—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia. Others to be chosen are two in Colorado, two in Michigan, two in Rhode Island and one each in Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Of the 34 states where governors are to be elected, nineteen seats are held by the Republicans and 15 by the Democrats. States which will choose chief executives are:

Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

One of the fighting issues of the campaign in many of the state contests and one which has appeared also in the national campaign—that of the Ku Klux Klan—has played a prominent part in a number of the gubernatorial and senatorial fights. This is particularly true in Indiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas, where national issues have been more or less overshadowed by the bitterness of the local feeing on the subject.

OHIO IS VOTING

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — In weather which felt more like spring than late fall, Ohio voters today were writing finis to the 1924 election.

They were going to the polls to choose presidential electors, select a complete state ticket from governor on down, and pass on issues of their localities.

First reports indicated heavy early voting due to the fine weather and to the interest which has been aroused, especially respecting the fight for the governorship between Harry L. Davis, Republican, chief executive in 1920-22, and Governor Vic Donahey.

Four years ago, when Harding carried Ohio by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate up to that time, Davis defeated Donahey by some 120,000 votes.

DONAHEY VICTOR

Two years ago, Donahey sent Carmi A. Thompson, the Republican nominee, down to defeat, after the then Governor Davis had decided not to stand for a second term.

Almost of equal interest on the state ticket has been the fight between Attorney General C. C. Crabbe seking re-election on the Republican ticket, and Thomas H. Morrow of Cincinnati, the Democratic candidate for the office.

These two state issues have kept interest at a high pitch, and that, coupled with the LaFollette-Wheeler candidacies, it is expected, combined with the sunshiny weather will result in a vote well over the 2,000,000 mark.

Republican state leaders, were jubilant this morning over the balmy weather which, they asserted, will aid materially their chances for victory. They point out that farmers will be able to get to the polls and declare the rural districts are heavily Republican.

* * *

What effect the weather will have on the probable La Follette vote is being conjectured with interest. The Independent Progressive presidential ticket, it is admitted, will draw its greatest strength from the big centers of population, Cleveland and Cuyahoga county where a sixth of the state's total vote is cast, it is believed, is La Follette's greatest center.

With the farmers trooping to the polls because of the fine weather, political prophets are admittedly up against it in forecasting the result.

The Commonwealth Land ticket is headed by W. J. Wallace for president and J. C. Lincoln for vice president, the Socialist Labor by Frank T. Johns for president, and Verne L. Reynolds for vice president.

On the state ballot, the Commonwealth Land and Socialist Labor parties are represented, in addition to the Republican and Democratic. The judicial ticket constitutes the other state ballot.

SLOW RETURNS

The expected heavy vote, and the presence of extra tax levies and bond issues in different localities over Ohio, coupled with "scratched tickets" is expected to slow up returns tonight, altho Secretary of State Thad H. Brown has made elaborate preparations to get the vote in early. He will have in effect the same system that gave such good results at the August primary and which resulted from the passage of a law by the last general assembly, which was drafted by newspaper men and others interested in obtaining returns at the earliest possible moment.

The state's candidates for governor will receive returns at their homes tonight, altho Governor Donahey may remain at his office. The chief executive went to New Philadelphia this morning to cast his ballot, but he plans to return here this afternoon. Davis is at his home in Cleveland.

VOTER IS SHOT

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Anton Rudzinski was shot and probably fatally injured today after he had gone to a polling place to vote. The police began a search for several men without any information as to the cause of the shooting.

Rudzinski dropped when perhaps ten shots were fired in and about the polling place, east of the stock yards.

The wounded man who is 47 and a teamster, had not been active politically and the police were uncertain whether he was the intended target or the victim of a mistake.

POLLS GUARDED

TULSA, Okla. — (By Associated Press) — Special deputy marshals were stationed at polls thruout eastern Oklahoma today. Federal officials refused to explain but their action followed charges during a hearing before Federal Judge F. E. Kennamer, here yesterday that attempts would be made to prevent certain citizens voting. The hearing was on a mandamus action involving the voting privileges of negroes in two counties. Judge Kennmer holding in favor of the negroes and ordering election officials to permit them to vote.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—With prospects of rolling up an unprecedented vote, New York state voters today began a steady pilgrimage to the polls as soon as they were opened at 6 o'clock. A heavy early vote was reported in all sections of New York City. Clear, cool weather prevailed thruout the state presaging an approximate vote of well over 3,000,000.

More than 3,858,000 citizens are entitled to vote, a total larger by 275,000 than the registration for the last presidential election. In addition to keen interest in the three cornered fight for the presidency, unusual attention was centered on the gubernatorial fight between Governor Alfred E. Smith and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

* * *

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—A record-breaking vote was looked for by campaign directors today as Illinois voters, under fair skies, crowded to the polls. More than 2,500,000 with 1,000,000 in Chicago, were registered. Precautions against any disorders were taken here and in Williamson-co, which voted with squads of national guardsmen on duty at polling places.

A detective rifle squad was kept ready here for instant service and upwards of 70,000 watchers visited the polls.

Interest in the triangular presidential contest was equalled in the gubernatorial fight between Governor Len Small and Judge Norman L. Jones, Democrat, who was supported by two Chicago newspapers which advocated election of the balance of the Republican ticket. The first appearance of disorder came early today when a fire of mysterious origin in a Chicago real estate office, used as a polling place, destroyed the ballot boxes and booths. The precinct's supply of ballots were safe in the possession of the judges of election at their homes.

* * *

CANTON — The biggest vote ever cast in the history of Stark-co was predicted for today's election by George H. Shauf, clerk of the board of elections Tuesday. Shauf said that if the rural vote held up he believed the vote in the county would reach the 65,000 mark. "Early reports from a number of precincts indicate that voting is brisk and that a heavy vote will be cast," he declared.

Fair weather helped to bring many voters to the polls early this morning.

* * *

MANSFIELD, Ohio — Voting booths were crowded from the time of opening this morning. Reports from rural precincts say farmers and their wives are voting in large numbers. It is anticipated that 22,000 votes will be cast in Richland-co.

* * *

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — early voting was comparatively heavy in all city precincts here today. Women predominated among the early voters. In rural precincts in the county, the vote up to 9:30 a. m. was very light.

* * *

CLEVELAND—An unprecedented morning vote was cast in Cuyahoga-co early today. Election officials estimated that nearly half of the registered vote would be in by noon.

* * *

YOUNGSTOWN—Early indications here for a vote of 95 per cent of voting strength. Mahoning-co is expected to total 50,000, a new record.

* * *

DAYTON—Spring-like weather brought out a heavy early vote in the city and Montgomery-co. Election officials predicted that 90 per cent of the 80,000 voters will have cast their ballots by 3 p. m.

* * *

CINCINNATI — The voting in Cincinnati early today was the heaviest in many years. According to reports received from various precincts, the voting was being expedited by voters.

* * *

TOLEDO — Early indications are a heavy vote will be cast here. The weather is favorable to bringing out the number of votes to about 90,000 in Lucas-co. Scratched tickets are expected from the length of time voters remain in the booths.

* * *

AKRON—Voting up to noon today was the heaviest in the history of the city, election officials said. Women visited the polls in great numbers durnig the morning.

* * *

STEUBENVILLE — The heaviest forenoon vote in the history of the city was recorded in Steubenville while reports from various sections of Jefferson-co indicate heavy balloting. Election officials predict a vote exceeding 22,000. Ideal weather and interest in a proposed million dollar bond issue for public school rebuilding aided in bringing out an early vote here.

* * *

LANCASTER — The largest rural vote in the history of the county was indicated this morning. The city vote was ordinary early, but is expected to turn out heavy this afternoon.

* * *

MIDDLETOWN — With the largest registration in its history —more than 10,000—and with more than one hundred votes cast previous to election day by absent voters, Middletown was expected to break all records in the size of its vote today.

* * *

PORTSMOUTH — Excellent weather in Portsmouth and Scioto-co brought out a heavy vote. Portsmouth voters are balloting on bond issues for a new municipal building and tax liens to buy fair grounds and aid the schools.

* * *

ALLIANCE — Between 7,500 and 8,000 votes will be cast in Alliance's presidential balloting today, according to election board officials. Up to ten o'clock this morning approximately 25 per cent of the city vote had been cast.

HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED IN DELPHOS TUESDAY

DELPHOS — Thirty-five voters visited the Third Ward, precinct A previous to 8 a. m. Tuesday, it was learned from election officials here.

With a similar vote thruout the city, members of the election board predict that the heaviest vote in years will be cast at the election.

VIC VOTES AT HOME

COLUMBUS — Governor Vic Donahey voted at his home precinct in New Philadelphia this morning and left immediately for Columbus. He will receive election returns at the executive mansion tonight.

WOULD ANNUL TRAINS

COLUMBUS — The Pennsylvania Railroad Company today petitioned the state public utilities commission for authority to discontinue five passenger trains operating on the Dayton-Lebanon division and between Cincinnati and Milford, over the main line. Loss of revenue incident to operation was given as the reason for wanting to discontinue service.

PLAN BIG BUILDING

DAYTON — President Frederick B. Patterson of the National Cash Register Co. today announced plans for the construction of a new eight-story factory building, covering an entire city block, which will cost $1,000,000.

Voting Record Maintained By Michigan Man

FLINT, Mich.—Theodore Canright, 93 years old, who voted for Lincoln and who has cast his ballot at every presidential election since, kept up his record this year tho he fell at his home yesterday and was so seriously injured he will be unable to go to the polls today. Canright had visited a newspaper office to tell of his voting achievement and to declare he intended to vote again today. As he reached home he fell from the porch, cut a deep gash in his head and suffered internal injuries. Newspapermen notified City Clerk King who made an exception and sent an absent voter's ballot to the aged man.

VANE SULLIVAN IMPROVED

Funeral Services for Walker Tharp on Wednesday

Condition of Vane Sullivan, 27, of 732 W. Wayne-st, who was seriously injured Sunday night in an automobile accident near Sidney in which his companion Walker Tharp, 516 Faurot-av, was instantly killed, is reported improved. Sullivan is at his home sufefring from severe shock and cuts and bruises.

Funeral services for Tharp will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Bethany Lutheran church. Rev. W. C. Spayde will officiate, assisted by Rev. G. B. Garner, of Cairo.

Intimate friends of the deceased will act as pallbearers. They are Paul Clark, Warren Basinger, Weldon Evans, Dick Judkins, Francis Clarke, Eugene Neely, Homer Tremaine.

The accident occurred Sunday at 8:30 p. m. one half mile east of Sidney. Sullivan, who was driving, is said to have been blinded by bright lights on another car and failed to see a sharp curve in the road. The machine plunged down a steep embankment, pinning Tharp under the windshield frame and throwing Sullivan into a field several feet away. Tharp's chest was crushed and his juglar vein severed, causing instantaneous death.

POSSE SEEKS 7 ARMED MEN

Farmers Report Gang Camped All Night by Road

Seven mysterious men traveling in a high powered limousine, who camped over night by the roadside near Rousculp's grocery, so alarmed farmers Tuesday that that telephoned both the Lima police and Sheriff Crosson to investigate at once.

Two carloads of armed officers raced to the vicinity where the alleged band was said to be lurking but discovered nothing save their deserted camp fire. Farmers who reported their presence asserted the seven men were heavily armd.

They feared that the gang might be plotting to rob Rousculp's place. The store has been burglarized on several occasions, the robberies being largely the work of embryo crooks.

TICKET SUPPLY FOR BIG GAME EXHAUSTED

COLUMBUS—The ticket supply for the Ohio State-Michigan football game in the Ohio stadium November 15 has been exhausted, Henry D. Taylor, who has charge of ticket sales for Ohio State University, announced today. No more orders will be accepted, he said.

This means that some 63,000 spectators are assured for the contest, which is the permanent seating capacity of the stadium. No temporary stands will be erected, Taylor said.

BANDIT KILLED BY POLICE

Holdup Man Dies When Deserted by Companion

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Deserted by his companion, who fled in a taxicab, an unidentified bandit, who held up the cashier of a restaurant at the point of a pistol in Lower New York early today, was shot and killed as he fled before a fusillade of shots fired at him by two pursuing policemen. His body, with two bullet wounds in it was found in a basement to which the chase led.

The man had backed the restaurant cashier into a corner and had overawed five patrons when the cash register bell attracted attention of Joseph Karpodinas, the proprietor. Karpodinas, who had been the victim of a holdup more than a year ago, was armed and he opened fire from a protecting wooden partition.

His shots went wild and the bandit fled.

When he reached the street his companion in a taxicab, alarmed by the firing, was driving off. Meanwhile two patrolmen joined the chase. Both fired and the bandit staggered into a basement where he was found dead.

A letter addressed to a "John Foley" at Ossining, N. Y., caused police to investigate any connection the dead man may have had with Sing Sing. The letter discussed various characters in that prison.

KIWANIANS HEAR BLUFFTON MAN

"Culture-Agricultural" Theme of Address Tuesday

"Culture is the application of labor toward improvement," N. W. Cunningham, Buffalo banker, said in a talk before the Lima Kiwanis club Tuesday at Barr hotel. Cunningham's subject was "Culture and Agriculture."

"We should cultivate out of our lives hate, fear, temper and similar things and cultivate into our lives hope, love, joy and all the good things of life," Cunningham said.

The club's annual meeting will be held December 2, at which time new officers and directors will be chosen, Secretary Frank Pringle said Tuesday. A nominating committee was appointed Tuesday to draw up a list of names. The committee is composed of Dan Morris, O. L. Deweese, S. G. Folsom, B. E. Rosenbaum and J. S. Williams.

A. T. Bushnell, assistant manager of the Ohio Power Co., was elected as a member of the club.

DRIVERS UNHURT; CARS DAMAGED IN ACCIDENTS

Two automobile accidents, in both of which machines were damaged but no one was injured, were reported to police Monday afternoon.

E. E. Snyder, 961 Bellefontaine-av, reported that when he turned around between street intersections on Bellefontaine-av, his car was struck by an automobile driven by Ruth Craner, 457 Shawnee-st.

H. R. Parlett, 467 W. McKibben-st, was driving south on Main-st and in making a left hand turn at Main and Spring-sts was struck by an automobile driven by an unknown man who failed to stop at the scene of the accident.

FORD ASKED TO BUY CITY

Virginia Capitol Sought as Living History Lesson

$5,000,000 IS NEEDED

Quaint Beauty of Colonial Days is Sought

RICHMOND, Va. — (By Associated Press) — Henry Ford has been asked to buy Williamsburg, ancient capital of Virginia, and restore to it the quaint picturesque beauty of the Revolutionary period. It then would be preserved as a living lesson in American history for future generations.

The suggestion, which Mr. Ford is said to be considering, was advanced by Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of William and Mary College, thru William Ford, brother of the automobile manufacturer.

Under the plan Mr. Ford would purchase a large part of the present city of Williamsburg, at an estimated cost of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. A Colonial Holding Corporation then would be formed, according to Dr. Goodwin's suggestion, to which the city would be turned over for all time. The task of re-creating the colonial seat of government would go forward under the direction of the holding corporation. All evidences of modern days would be removed. Motion picture houses, restaurants, telephone poles, and all the trade marks of the present day would exist no more.

RELIC OF VALUE

In the place of today's Williamsburg, there would stand the House of Burgesses, rebuilt as it originally stood. Raleigh Tavern once more would stand with inviting door for the traveler. Main Street again would be lined with myrtle trees and hedged by roses. Shacks would give way to copies of the colonial houses which formerly occupied their sites. It is not planned to compel present owners of old colonial homes to sell them to the corporation, but options would be requested in view of future sales.

Dr. Goodwin, who for years has been interested in the preservation of the ramaining marks of Virginia colonial history, is quoted as follows:

"For some time I have cherished the hope that Ford might be and doubtless woud be interested in making a contribution to the United States of the old colonial capital of Virginia.

"Williamsburg was associated with all the great debates, resolutions and actions which resulted in the establishment of our federal government. It is distinctly the most interesting colonial relic which now remains in America, and should be rescued and preserved. Unless something is done within the next few years, it will be too late."

GERMANY LOOKS TO ELECTION

Middle Class Gaining Power for Peace-Prosperity

GENERAL VOTE FORCED

Stabilized Government Plan of Rising Party

By W. T. MASON

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Germany's forthcoming general election marks the first real challenge by the middle classes for power since the ending of the world war

The German bourgeoisie wants peace and amity abroad and conservatism at home The nationalists want Germany to base her foreign policy on revenge before the Germans have got their strength back, while the socialists and communists desire varying degrees of radicalism in domestic affairs

The middle classes in Germany have made a startling recovery during the past year They have entirely falsified the theory that the war had obliterated the bourgeoi Germans and that there would be no important middle class for a generation at least With the stabilization of the mark and the self confidence engendered in Germany by the failure of France's Ruhr policy, the middle classes have begun to return to their former importance

The new rich profiteers in Germany have largely lost their grip Its mania for speculation which made their millions has proven their undoing Especially have they lost because of the movement of the German exchange rate The effect of these enormous fluctuations has been to shake the profiteers money back among the people, and now that the people have got it again the stabilization of the mark is permitting them to keep what they have

RISE OF MIDDLE CLASS

This is the primary reason for the rise of the new middle classes in Germany Realizing that they have been made by stabilization, they want to keep Germany stabilized The only way this can be done is by resisting radical local changes demanded by the socialists and by resisting the nationalists' desire to challenge the rest of the world out of sheer truculence The working people have had their chance at high wages, the capitalists have had their chance at inordinate profits Now has come the chance of the bourgeois Germans to make slow and steady progress along conservative lines of conduct being able to count on their savings having a stabilized value

The Marx ministry has tried to prolong life by coalition plans which in reality were based on nationalistic demands despite the acceptance of the Dawes report Foreign Minister Stresemann represents the nationalistic spirit in the German government He is an intriguer who seeks constantly to stir up agitations abroad about any issue whatever which can be used to cause international confusion. He tries to prevent Germany being forced into a back seat internationally, by keeping those in the front seats annoyed by the noise behind.

SABRE RATTLING

The new German middle classes do not like this kind of imitative sabre rattling They want things to be quiet so that Germany can settle down and by strict attention to business work the Fatherland back to its former position in the world This is the fundamental reason why the middle class politicians delivered an ultimatum to Chancellor Marx declining to serve in any cabinet with nationalists and so forced a general election

The nationalists have become much weakened in Bavaria, their principal stronghold The Bavarians have found by experience that they got nothing out of nationalistic policies except oratory The new middle class movement is making itself felt in Bavaria, as elsewhere thruout Germany

By uniting their strength at the general election, the middle classes may be able to exert effective control over the next German government, either directly, or by holding the balance of power Their success would be a powerful influence for stabilizing all Europe

AMERICAN RAISINS ARE EATEN IN SWITZERLAND DEMAND ON INCREASE

ZURICH — American methods introduced here have made Zurich the greatest raisin eating town in all Switzerland Raisins from the United States may be purchased here in small packages like they are sold in the American cities the idea proving popular with the Swiss from the very beginning

Zurich for years has been more or less fond of raisins which came chiefly from Smyrna After the Smyrna fire last year there was much fretting among the merchants as to where their fresh supplies were to be obtained When William H Mather commercial attache of the American consul general's office here heard of the plight of the dealers he cabled immediately to Washington Washington apparently soon got in touch with the American raisin dealers, and within 18 days American raisins were on sale here

Since then the American raisin has held its place here and has been placed on sale quite generally in various parts of Switzerland

PIANO TUNER SEALED IN BOX IS ROUGHLY HANDLED

BERLIN — Peter Ahrens a piano tuner, recently was arrested for stealing goods from a freight car When arraigned he made a complaint against the freight handlers method of handling goods in transit Ahrens in order to get into the freight car constructed a freight box cushioned inside, in which he secreted himself

Despite this, Ahrens declared the freight handlers put his box on end and left him standing on his head more than an hour before moving the box to the freight car.

WORKSHOPS FOR DISABLED

Manufacture of Wreaths and Emblems Suggested

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — The first of a series of workshops for disabled war veterans, in which they will turn out memorial wreaths and flowers for patriotic uses, will be opened here the first week in January under the auspices of the Bolo club, an organization given chiefly to the interests of former service men.

Thousands of small emblems, the red carnation, insignia of the Spanish American war veterans, the blue violet of the World War and the purple daisy of the Veteran Corps of the Republic, will be manufactured, according to C I Jennings, secretary of the executive council Orders for poppies from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will also be delivered.

Only disabled American war veterans will be employed and the profits deposited in a general fund for the relief of veterans and dependents

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

Here is a home made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for three times the money Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft Wayne, Ind.

POTS AND PANS

A little Climalene sprinkled in the pot or pan cuts the grease and makes the cleaning easy. Let burned utensils soak a few minutes in hot water to which a pinch of Climalene has been added.

WASHING HANDS

If the hands are grimy and greasy, a little Climalene sprinkled on them will work wonders without irritating the skin. For ordinary toilet use or shaving, drop a pinch of Climalene in the wash-bowl.

A FAMILY of five sends over a hundred thousand dishes a year to the kitchen sink; plates, cups and saucers, tureens and casseroles, knives and forks, pots, pans, skillets, and roasters.

Five hundred and forty-seven hours clattering in the sink! Put Climalene in your dishwater and take the drudgery out. You can save two hundred of the five forty-seven—a whole month of "working people's" working hours—by doing it the quicker, easier, better way, with Climalene.

And dishwashing is only one of a dozen weekly tasks in which Climalene will work for you, softening the water, cleaning everything, saving hands and back, time and labor, clothes and soap.

Sold by all grocers in 12 oz. and 2 lb. packages

MILITARY CAMPS TRAIN 275,000

National Guard Units Enroll 156,515 in Summer

THREE MONTHS COURSE

Maximum Set by War Leaders Swarmed Camps

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — More than a quarter million men received some degree of intensive military training under War Department supervision last summer. The exact number was shown in reports now before Major General John L. Hines, chief of staff, was 275,630, of whom 23,250 were officers and the remainder enlisted personnel. The period of training ranged from 15 days for the National Guard and Organized Reserves to three months of concentrated activity for the regulars who compose the instructor and demonstration force aroound with work of the civilian soldiers was centered.

The bulk of the training was in the National Guard camps where a total of 156,515 men and officers were in attendance. The turnout of organized reserves amounted to 8,705, of whom all but 492 were officers. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps contributed 7,012 to the grand total and the Citizens' Military Training Camps, 33,983 bringing the total number of men to be graduated from these camps since they were first established on a post war basis up to 70,000.

Of particular importance in the summer training to the new national defense policy is the annual product of the reserve officer's training corps and the civilian military camps in second lieutenants for the maintenance of the Officers Reserve Corps. These two branches of the training establishment afford practically the only source for replacements and new blood for the reserve officers' organization, which now numbers 82,240 men on War Department rolls.

RESERVE CORPS

It has been estimated that 10,000 young men must come into the corps annualy as second lieutenants if it is to be kept at adequate strength and the reserve officers training corps is expected ultimately to produce 7,000 of these young reserve officers a year, the other 3,000 to come from the citizen camps, regular army, national guard and other sources.

There are in the colleges and schools of the country 325 units of the reserve officers training corps with a total enrollment at the close of the last school year of 103,894 under training. From this source in the last five years up to September 4 of this year, a total of 9,817 second lieutenants had been commissioned in the reserve corps. The report shows that in the 29 civilian training camps held this year the attendance was the minimum which could be admitted and cared for with funds available to the War Department for the purpose The number actually at camps, 33,983 for 30 days, was a big increase over last year, while the number of applications received amounted to 53,000. Of that number 44,000 proved to have the physical and other qualifications necessary for admission, so that aproximately 10,000 youngsters were disappointed in their hope to go thru a training camp course last summer.

Recruiting for the camps was shut down some weeks before the camps themselves were opened and it is the judgment of officers in various corps areas in charge of the work that 75,000 applications at least would have been received except for this fact. The ultimate goal set in army plans for the training camps is to put 16,000 boys a year thru the courses and from graduates who attend the camps for three successive years to draw a substantial number of recruits for the officers reserve corps to supplement the output of the reserve officers training corps.

MILITARY TEST

A phase of the organized reserve corps work during the summer to which the War Department attaches particular importance is the application for the first time of the principle of unit training to these organizations. Under that practice a very considerable number of reserve officers assigned to specific units of the organized reserve were given the opportunity to get together with their comrade officers of the same units and to function as a team under their own officers in dealing with mobilization problems such as reception, organization, equipment and preliminary training of the men they would command in war.

The Defense Day test, on the face of official reports from all over the country, served to bring out sharply the benefit of this unit training scheme. War Department officials say. The striking success of that test, from a purely military point of view, it is stated, lay in the efficiency displayed by these groups of reserve officers in handling the limited mobilization in their own areas and also n the great nterst they manifested themselves and succeeded in awakening among their neighbors in what was going on.

JOFFRE RETIRES TO COUNTI..

Like Cincinnatus of old, Marshal Joffre, one of the World War's greatest heroes, has retired to a simple country life. He and his wife are living in the Chateau "La Chataignerale," ontside the village of Louveciennes, not far from Paris. The place was designed according to Madame Joffre's suggestions from a postcard of the historic Chateau de Cardignan near Bordeaux. The upper picture is the latest one of the marshal and his wife (at the left in the front row) and the lower one shows their new home.

JAPANESE VOTE EXTENSION

All Men 25 Years or Older to Get Ballot

TOKYO—(By United Press)—Democracy in Japan took another long step recently, when it was announced that universal manhood suffrage is to be proposed in the Diet when it opens in December.

Details of the plans submitted to the Government by members of a committee appointed to draw up the bill include a provision that all men 25 years of age and over shall be entitled to vote.

This lowers the age limit from 30 and the proposed legislation does away with the regulations denying the vote to students and men in religious occupations.

The Government also plans to abolish the regulation concerning the eligibility of persons who undertake contracts for the Government.

Certain Government posts, however, will bar their holders from the right to vote or to take part in political campaigns. Among these are the positions of judges and procurators at the law courts of the Government in Korea, the Government of Formosa, the Kwantung Government, the South Sea Government, and the law officers of the Army and Navy.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work. adv

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Safely Reduces It To Normal and Dizzy Spells Disappear

Thousands who have dizzy spells, dizziness, nervousness, shortness of breath, pains in the head, impaired energy have been told by insurance examiners or insurance examining doctors they have high blood pressure. The serious results are well known to check it at once. High blood pressure caused by disease of the heart often brings on Bright's Disease, apoplexy and sudden death.

Nothing reduces high blood pressure like Kruschen. Often one bottle will do it. Many have so testified. It is a doctor's prescription that's harmless and is also much used by women at the changing time of life when they have blood pressure symptoms.

Kruschen is sold at Hinter's Drug Store; Enterprise Drug Store. adv

NEW SHIP LOG PERFECTED

Mechanical Device Indicates Speed, Distance

STOCKHOLM — (By Associated Press) — An interesting invention for the accurate indicating of the speed of ships, and the recording of the distance sailed, has been perfected in Sweden, and the functioning of the instrument was demonstrated recently before a meeting of the Swedish Shipowners' Association.

The new log operates with a margin of error of less than 1 percent, compared with an error of as much as 10 percent in the case of some other logs ordinarily used by merchant vessels. It is based on the principle that the pressure of water from the direction toward which movement is made, varies with the speed of the vessel. Extending down thru the bottom of the vessel is a tube with an opening on the forward side near the lower end. The water level inside this tube varies more or less above sea level according to the speed of the ship, and the indicating mechanism has electrical connections with the bridge which enable the navigator to tell instantly the speed of the ship and the distance sailed.

The Lima News

AND TIMES-DEMOCRAT

Published every afternoon except Sunday in The Lima News Building, 121 E High-st, Lima, Ohio. Entered at the Lima, O. postoffice as second class mail matter.

Cold Epidemic

Epidemics of colds are beginning to go the rounds. Their season has started. A doctor writes, urging people to do away with the handkerchief and use, instead, squares of cheesecloth which can be burned later, along with germs.

The use of a handkerchief is the most unsanitary and unhealthful practice of civilized man.

Going into the family wash, it is apt to spread its cargo of germs. Few people boil clothes long enough to kill germs. To kill the tuberculosis germ, for instance, requires as much as 20 minutes of boiling.

Cheesecloth is cheap. It's easily burned. Common sense suggests its use at all times, certainly when we have a cold.

A person with a cold expectorates in the street. The sputum dries up and the germs are blown around in the dust. Inhaled, they transfer the cold to other victims. Safety wouldn't be assured even if we wore gas masks over nose and mouth, for germs can enter the body thru the eyes.

Diseases cannot be curbed unless every one of us is decent enough to do his part to safeguard others. And the common cold is easily the worst malady we have. The average person has several colds a year. He feels wretched. His work suffers. Probably he's confined to the house a few days. Nationally the thing mounts up into a tremendous economic loss.

We are constantly being attacked by germs. Whether we are able to hold them in check depends largely on our powers of bodily resistance. Plenty of sleep; moderation in eating; regular exercise and lots of fresh air; all these help.

"Colds" are improperly named. They might be better known as "hots," since they usually bring fever. Apparently they got their popular name because they're most prevalent in cold weather.

Above all, we should mark and remember this false notion—the popular saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever." This saying originated more than 2000 years ago when Hippocrates, the Greek "father of medicine" said: "If we feed a cold, you will have to starve a fever." Time has twisted his words and thereby falsified their meaning. Hippocrates was right. Starve your cold.

The Old Alley

Tragedy: A spark from the chimney of a Boston tenement destroys an enormous pile of kindling wood on the roof. This wood had been brought from miles away by small boys of the families that live below.

Thruout the hot summer they had toiled, hauling the kindling in toy wagons or breathing heavily as they trudged along with their precious cargo in their arms.

"About $100 damages," reported the prosaic firemen. But the official record does not cover the disappointment and heartache of the small lads whose toil has vanished in smoke. To them it is a tragedy.

Grown-up men will sympathize with these poor Boston boys, as memory takes them back to alley-prowling of years gone by. The alley had not been virtually eliminated then by city congestion and high land values.

It was the choice playground of all red-blooded lads. There we gathered kindling, collected old iron and bones for the junkman, or searched near the liverystable for the symbol of good luck—the horseshoe.

Comes, too, in memeroy, the alley fences from whose tops we raided fruit trees, and no fruit ever tasted sweeter.

The alley, as a boyhood institution, is just about gone except in smaller towns or villages. City youth, never having tasted this sweet, doesn't know what it is missing. But a considerable army of us, if boys again, wouldn't trade, for modern youth's radios and movies and other marvels, the old-time alley and its fences disfigured with initials carved by the proud owners of Christmas jackknives.

Progress is fine, cluttering life with fancy manufactured articles. But we lose a lot of the great thrills and pleasures when we forfeit simplicity.

Tom Sawyer's natural habitat is an alley.

The Brute In Us

Here is some common sense and an idea that will be new to most people. William Van De Wall, a Pennsylvania state official, says: "Our intellectual life has progressed at a more rapid rate than our emotional development. The struggle of very primitive fundamental instincts, revealing themselves thru imperious emotional demands, with present day conditions and social demands, is claimed by many scientists to be at the bottom of many mental disturbances."

In other words, modern man has an enlightened twentieth century intellect obeying and serving primitive emotions.

Stevenson, in writing "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," advanced the idea that in every man two natures struggle for supremacy, one good, one evil.

The good being is intellectual and spiritual.

The evil being is emotional.

All of us are descended from brutes. And their brutish emotions still lurk in us. We have inherited them, tho thru long generations we have, to varying extent, learned to repress our brute natures.

Rage, whether silent or expressed in a torrent of curses, is a repression of an inherited primitive emotion that led to physical attack, even murder.

In evolution, there are "throwbacks, to primitive types." A long succession of very decent fathers and mothers may have a son, for instance, who is a "throwback" to a brutal ancestor of long ago. Repressed primitive instincts explode, break thru—produce a fiend.

"Being good" is a matter of sitting on the lid—keeping our brutal natures imprisoned. Some find it easy. To others it is a life-long fight. Accordingly, walking the straight and narrow path is more commendable in some cases than in others. The man who can be good only by powerful effort, but nevertheless is good, deserves more credit than the one who has few if any cravings to jump over the traces.

It works the other way, too: Criminals (unfortunates who have inherited more of the brute) cannot be judged by the same standards as others. An enlightened system of justice is gradually recognizing this and making allowances for it in inflicting punishment.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HANGING ONTO THE PROPS

Today I intended to go a little further into the question of the proper propping of the only arch that really amounts to anything, but somebody sends me newspaper clipping in which I discover an old familiar prop which demands immediate attention. The clipping is from a Chicago newspaper and bears the title "Open Season for Colds at Hand, Bundesen Warns." According to the article, Dr. Herman Bundesen, the health commissioner of Chicago, gives this advice to persons suffering with alleged "colds":

"Stay at home. Take a hot bath. Take a cathartic. Then if necessary call the family doctor."

About the same time I received thru the courtesy of Dr. Bundesen, the Weekly Bulletin of the Chicago department of health, in which Dr. Bundesen offers this advice:

"With the first running of the nose is the time that the cold can best be abated if you: Stay home. Take a hot bath. Go to bed. Take a physic. If necessary, call your family doctor."

All of which is excellent. But Dr. Bundesen goes into the question of prevention rather more in detail, and I quote what he says in the Bulletin about the—

PREVENTION OF A COLD

"The prevention of a cold consists in first avoiding the infection as far as possible, and secondly, guarding against predisposing or underlying causes.

Rest. The proper amount of rest, and an abundance of fresh air, not too dry nor too hot, and free from dust. Abundant water and correct diet, keeping the bowels open—cleanliness—avoiding undue exposure to cold and wet aid in the prevention of colds. Keep a can of water on your steam radiators during the heating season to prevent the drying of the room air. This will save your nasal secretions which is a great bar to the cold producing germs."

That allusion to "undue exposure" is the old familiar prop I am sorry to see Dr. Bundesen using. The whole issue of the Bulletin is given over to the discussion of "colds" and Dr. Bundesen dwells on the infections or communicable character of the diseases which masquerade under that title. He even speaks quite favorably of the chlorine treatment—which of course is based on the belief that germs alone are responsible for the alleged "colds." He dwells on the manner in which these respiratory infections are spread from child to child in school—and here again he carefully preserves the old prop by including in the same paragraph with the swapping of gum, placing contaminated pencils, fingers and the like in the mouth and being sneezed or coughed upon, "chilling thru wet and cold feet; insufficient clothing; and by sitting in a draught when overheated."

This "undue exposure" prop makes the whole argument look weak. If any such factor is concerned at all, then it is unfortunate and confusing for a health advisor or physician to warn people about it without specifying clearly what constitutes "undue exposure." How much fresh air may be safely admitted without the risk of "chilling" somebody? How much ventilation may there be provided in a school room without admitting a "draught"? Such questions will forever remain unanswerable until the health authorities discard this Machiavellian prop.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Only in Detective Yarns

Is there any truth in the assertion that the lens in the eye of a person loses its transparency at death and is affected like a photographic film, retaining in the case of a murdered man, say, an image of his slayer?—R. L.

Answer—No, that is just a fiction expedient like the prompt restoration of consciousness which occurs when the victim is given a draught from a flask.

No Change, Just Arrest

You say there is no such thing as change of life. Would you please let me know the meaning of menopause?—Mrs. E. O.

Answer—Menopause means the cessation of menstruation, which occurs normally about the age of 47 years. When I said there is no such thing as change of life I meant that this arrest of function in no way impairs a woman's health.

Doctor Trips Over Pores

What's all this here, now! Some say 'tis and some say 'tain't. Let's have a little sarcasm in reference to the marked item inclosed.—Michigan Student.

Answer—The item is a newspaper clipping of a query about face powders and cosmetics. Does one using such cosmetics absorb poison thru the pores enough to injure health? And the doctor in his reply says yes, if the poisonous kinds are used. Well, maybe the doctor was out on a case the night before. Anyhow he was wrong. The lead in some cosmetics is absorbed, if at all, thru inhalation, ingestion or abrasions of the skin, not thru "pores." Hoping this is sufficiently sarcastic, I beg to remain, etc.

Abundance consists not alone in material possession, but in an uncovetous spirit.—Selden.

PYORRHEA
Can Now Be Stopped

Don't suffer from sore and bleeding gums, broken health and loose teeth. A prominent Dental Specialist has made a most remarkable discovery—a simple, inexpensive and effective treatment for Pyorrhea, called Jo-Vex. It soon kills the germs of Pyorrhea, stops bleeding and tenderness, hardens the gums, promotes healing, purifies the mouth and breath, and halts poisoning of the system. Used as directed, Jo-Vex may be relied upon to eliminate Pyorrhea, or to prevent it. Get a bottle from Hunter's Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store, or other drug stores. Jo-Vex is inexpensive, easy to use, and sold under a money-back guarantee. If your dealer can't supply you, send $1.00 to the Jo-Vex Co., Akron, Ohio. adv

JUST FOLKS
—by EDGAR A. GUEST—

THINKERS ALL

You can't find out what a fellow thinks
Where the slag comes up and the metal sinks
In the cupola of a foundry's gloom;
You can't get his thoughts in the crowded room
And the clang and stir of a factory grim;
Then life is too busy and swift for him
To do more than snarl at the dirt and heat;
You can't read his mind on the busy street,
You must wait till you get him somewhere alone,
Then he'll make his dreams and his fancies known.

They are merely men as they walk to work,
Mechanic and foreman and drudge and clerk.
Laughing or frowning, or sad or gay,
Merely a throng as they go their way;
But each of them's bringing a thought to bloom
Which you never will see in a factory's gloom;
Never from seven to five you'll find
The nobler side of the toiler's mind;
But somewhere away from the world's harsh tone
He'll tell what he thinks when he's all alone.

Out in the woods, by stream or hill,
When the stars come out and the night is still,
He will turn to you and he'll whisper low
Of the thousand things which he wants to know;
He'll utter his faith in a simple way,
He'll tell what he says when he kneels to pray,
He'll talk of eternal joys to be,—
Oh, a different sort of man you'll see
Than the toiler grim in the furnace hole
When you get him alone and he bares his soul.

LIMA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Musicians Form Organization; Metheany is President

PRACTICES ARE HELD

35 Members and Business Men Support Movement

Lima may have its own symphony orchestra in the very near future if present plans of a number of prominent musicians and business men are carried to completion, George H. Metheany, manager of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Co., announced Tuesday.

The movement has been under way for the past eight months, Metheany said. During that time 35 musicians have been practicing every week at the Elks' Home and have practically perfected the organization of a civic symphony orchestra.

OFFICERS NAMED

Monday night members of the orchestra met with a number of business men and Metheany was appointed as temporary chairman of the organization. W. W. Crooks, a member of the orchestra and prominent railway official, was named as chairman of a committee to draw up a constitution. Mrs. Harry Macdonald and Mrs. J. W. Dimond were also named for the committee.

The movement started eight months ago when five local musicians gave a short program before the Women's Music club. Since then it has grown gradually and now is practically a sure thing.

The orchestra likely will give a concert at the Faurot Opera House in the near future, Metheany said. If it is a success, it will begin giving concerts out of town.

3 DEAD; 2 HURT

Accidents Exact Heavy Toll in Cleveland

CLEVELAND — A pretty girl, 18 years old, with bobbed hair, who wears an engagement ring, was near death early today, the victim of a motorist who ran her down at a car stop last night and fled. Hospital physicians say her skull is fractured and her chance of recovery slight.

Deaths yesterday of a woman and two men, victims of automobile accidents brought Cleveland's record of fatalities for the year to 138. Besides these, a two year old boy who broke away from his mother's grasp and dashed across the street, was struck by a car and suffered a fractured skull.

Instead of having his mother for company at dinner and the moving picture theatre afterward, Arthur Yates, living on the south side, found her body in the morgue after he had waited downtown at the meeting place appointed before he left home in the morning. The mother, Mrs. Mary Yates, 69, was killed in the downtown section.

VOTE IN PUTNAM-CO IS HEAVY; CITIZENS VISIT POLLS EARLY

OTTAWA — Early indications Tuesday were to the effect that a large vote would be polled and before 10 a. m., it was figured, more than one-half of this vote would be cast.

Both major parties are leaving no stone unturned to get the voters to the polls.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union of Putnam-co made a campaign, especially urging that every person should vote as they pleased, but vote.

Automobiles were drafted into service to bring the sick, infirm and aged to the polls.

MOTOR SALES CO. TAKES WAGE CASE ON APPEAL

Troubles of Jack O'Malley, detective, will never cease, it seems.

After being arrested charged with misapprorfiation of $40 belonging to the Timmerman Motor Sales Co., the case was dismissed and in turn O'Malley sued the auto agency, for his back wages, getting a verdict for $112.50.

Now the Timmerman Motor Sales Co., dissatisfied with the decision, has appealed the case to common pleas court. It may not be tried until next year as there are approximately 400 other cases on the docket.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS MAY USE PORTABLE X-RAY

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — The recent announcement here of the development in the General Electric laboratories of a portable X-Ray machine has brought inquiries from a Central American government concerning the possibility of obtaining 1200 for use of customs inspectors at ports of entry. The portable X-Ray, according to its inventor, has the power of disclosing contents of bundles, and of penetrating the walls of a room or a trunk and it was thought the device might be adapted to customs inspection work. The machine is not yet ready for commercial development, according to reports here.

100 MORE VOTERS ARE QUALIFIED ON MONDAY

More than 100 voters nosed under the wire by a hair's breath Monday afternoon when they were qualified to cast a ballot in Tuesday's election.

The electors were those persons who were out of the city on the regular dates. They appeared before the board in person and certified that they were absent.

A constant stream of applicants poured into the offices of the board all afternoon, and a number applied after the closing time at 5:30 p. m. They were disappointed.

The additional registration raises the total of the city to approximately 18,380. The previous figure was 18,276, while four years ago 17,775 were registered.

FILLING STATIONS TO BE PROBED BY CITY

Location of gasoline filling stations at least 25 feet from the curb is proposed by City Manager C. A. Bingham as a safety measure in connection with the city's program to restrict the invasion of filling station into residential districts.

In a letter Monday night to city commission the city manager cited three instances where stations are located less than 25 feet from the curb and one place where station stands less than 35 feet from the curb.

Commissioner deferred action for one week upon advice of Solicitor Paul T. Landis who is to investigate the city legal authority and report at the next legislative session.

INSPECT MINE

Dell Mullins, formerly of Lima, and F. W. Klett, mining engineer of Toledo, left Tuesday for an inspection of the Goudreau gold mine located at Goudreau, Ontario, 174 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie. This mine is said to be one of the best in Ontario.

Y. W. WITHDRAWS FROM EDUCATION WEEK PLANS

NEW YORK — Coincident with publication of communications with Commissioner of Education John J. Tigert in which it charged among other things that the promotion of National Education Week, November 17 to 23, had been "turned over to a military organization" (the American Legion) the American Civil Liberties union announced last night that the national board of the Young Women's Christian association had "declined to participate" in the movement.

The announcement was made by Roger N. Baldwin, director of the Union, who said the information was conveyed to him in a letter from Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. He said that Miss Cratty wrote him the decision was made "because of certain elements in the announced program inconsistent with the position of the organization's national board in regard to world peace and international cooperation."

FIVE MINUTE PARKING ASKED BY LIMA BANKS

City Manager C. A. Bingham is to investigate traffic conditions in front of local banks in connection with a petition from six such institutions for a five minute parking law.

The petition signed by officials of the Lima Trust Co., The First American bank, The Old National bank, City bank, Metropolitan bank and Lima Dime Savings bank asked for a five minute law similar to the one enforced at the postoffice.

Commission heard the petition and after a short discussion referred the question to City Manager Bingham with instructions to investigate and report back at the meeting next Monday night.

Cold Epidemic

Epidemics of colds are beginning to go the rounds. Their season has started. A doctor writes, urging people to do away with the handkerchief and use, instead, squares of cheesecloth which can be burned later, along with germs.

The use of a handkerchief is the most unsanitary and unhealthful practice of civilized man

Going into the family wash, it is apt to spread its cargo of germs. Few people boil clothes long enough to kill germs. To kill the tuberculosis germ, for instance, requires as much as 20 minutes of boiling.

Cheesecloth is cheap. It's easily burned. Common sense suggests its use at all times, certainly when we have a cold.

A person with a cold expectorates in the street. The sputum dries up and the germs are blown around in the dust. Inhaled, they transfer the cold to other victims. Safety wouldn't be assured even if we wore gas masks over nose and mouth, for germs can enter the body thru the eyes.

Diseases cannot be curbed unless every one of us is decent enough to do his part to safeguard others. And the common cold is easily the worst malady we have. The average person has several colds a year He feels wretched. His work suffers Probably he's confined to the house a few days. Nationally the thing mounts up into a tremendous economic loss.

We are constantly being attacked by germs Whether we are able to hold them in check depends largely on our powers of bodily resistance. Plenty of sleep; moderation in eating; regular exercise and lots of fresh air; all these help.

"Colds" are improperly named. They might be better known as "hots," since they usually bring fever. Apparently they got their popular name because they're most prevalent in cold weather.

Above all, we should mark and remember this false notion—the popular saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever." This saying originated more than 2000 years ago when Hippocrates, the Greek "father of medicine" said: "If we feed a cold, you will have to starve a fever." Time has twisted his words and thereby falsified their meaning. Hippocrates was right. Starve your cold.

The Old Alley

Tragedy. A spark from the chimney of a Boston tenement destroys an enormous pile of kindling wood on the roof. This wood had been brought from miles away by small boys of the families that live below.

Thruout the hot summer they had toiled, hauling the kindling in toy wagons or breathing heavily as they trudged along with their precious cargo in their arms.

"About $100 damages," reported the prosaic firemen. But the official record does not cover the disappointment and heartache of the small lads whose toil has vanished in smoke. To them it is a tragedy.

Grown-up men will sympathize with these poor Boston boys, as memory takes them back to alley-prowling of years gone by The alley had not been virtually eliminated then by city congestion and high land values.

It was the choice playground of all red-blooded lads. There we gathered kindling, collected old iron and bones for the junkman, or searched near the liverystable for the symbol of good luck—the horseshoe.

Comes, too, in memeroy, the alley fences from whose tops we raided fruit trees, and no fruit ever tasted sweeter.

The alley, as a boyhood institution, is just about gone except in smaller towns or villages. City youth, never having tasted this sweet, doesn't know what it is missing. But a considerable army of us, if boys again, wouldn't trade, for modern youth's radios and movies and other marvels, the old-time alley and its fences disfigured with initials carved by the proud owners of Christmas jackknives.

Progress is fine, cluttering life with fancy manufactured articles. But we lose a lot of the great thrills and pleasures when we forfeit simplicity.

Tom Sawyer's natural habitat is an alley

The Brute In Us

Here is some common sense and an idea that will be new to most people. William Van De Wall, a Pennsylvania state official, says: "Our intellectual life has progressed at a more rapid rate than our emotional development The struggle of very primitive fundamental instincts, revealing themselves thru imperious emotional demands, with present day conditions and social demands, is claimed by many scientists to be at the bottom of many mental disturbances."

In other words, modern man has an enlightened twentieth century intellect obeying and serving primitive emotions.

Stevenson, in writing "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," advanced the idea that in every man two natures struggle for supremacy, one good, one evil.

The good being is intellectual and spiritual.

The evil being is emotional.

All of us are descended from brutes. And their brutish emotions still lurk in us. We have inherited them, tho thru long generations we have, to varying extent, learned to repress our brute natures.

Rage, whether silent or expressed in a torrent of curses, is a repression of an inherited primitive emotion that led to physical attack, even murder.

In evolution, there are "throwbacks, to primitive types" A long succession of very decent fathers and mothers may have a son, for instance, who is a "throwback" to a brutal ancestor of long ago. Repressed primitive instincts explode, break thru—produce a fiend.

"Being good" is a matter of sitting on the lid—keeping our brutal natures imprisoned. Some find it easy. To others it is a life-long fight. Accordingly, walking the straight and narrow path is more commendable in some cases than in others. The man who can be good only by powerful effort, but nevertheless is good, deserves more credit than the one who has few if any cravings to jump over the traces.

It works the other way, too: Criminals (unfortunates who have inherited more of the brute) cannot be judged by the same standards as others. An enlightened system of justice is gradually recognizing this and making allowances for it in inflicting punishment.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HANGING ONTO THE PROPS

Today I intended to go a little further into the question of the proper propping of the only arch that really amounts to anything, but somebody sends me newspaper clipping in which I discover an old familiar prop which demands immediate attention The clipping is from a Chicago newspaper and bears the title 'Open Season for Colds at Hand, Bundesen Warns" According to the article, Dr. Herman Bundesen, the health commissioner of Chicago, gives this advice to persons suffering with alleged "colds"

"Stay at home. Take a hot bath Take a cathartic Then if necessary call the family doctor."

About the same time I received thru the courtesy of Dr Bundesen, the Weekly Bulletin of the Chicago department of health, in which Dr Bundesen offers this advice

"With the first running of the nose is the time that the cold can best be abated if you Stay home. Take a hot bath Go to bed. Take a physic If necessary, call your family doctor"

All of which is excellent But Dr Bundesen goes into the question of prevention rather more in detail, and I quote what he says in the Bulletin about the—

PREVENTION OF A COLD

"The prevention of a cold consists in first avoiding the infection as far as possible, and secondly, guarding against predisposing or underlying causes

Rest. The proper amount of rest, and an abundance of fresh air, not too dry nor too hot, and free from dust Abundant water and correct diet, keeping the bowels open—cleanliness—avoiding undue exposure to cold and wet aid in the prevention of colds Keep a can of water on your steam radiators during the heating season to prevent the drying of the room air This will save your nasal secretions which is a great bar to the cold producing germs"

That allusion to "undue exposure" is the old familiar prop I am sorry to see Dr. Bundesen using. The whole issue of the Bulletin is given over to the discussion of "colds' and Dr Bundesen dwells on the infectious or communicable character of the diseases which masquerade under that title. He even speaks quite favorably of the chlorine treatment—which of course is based on the belief that germs alone are responsible for the alleged "colds" He dwells on the manner in which these respiratory infections are spread from child to child in school—and here again he carefully preserves the old prop by including in the same paragraph with the swapping of gum, placing contaminated pencils, fingers and the like in the mouth and being sneezed on or coughed upon, "chilling thru wet and cold feet, insufficient clothing; and by sitting in a draught when overheated"

This "undue exposure" prop makes the whole argument look weak. If any such factor is concerned at all, then it is unfortunate and confusing for a health advisor or physician to warn people about it without specifying clearly what constitutes undue exposure" How much fresh air may be safely admitted without the risk of "chilling somebody" How much ventilation may there be provided in a school room without admitting a 'draught' Such questions will force certain unanswerable until the health authorities discard this Machiavellian prop

by EDGAR A. GUEST

THINKERS ALL

You can't find out what a fellow thinks
Where the slag comes up and the metal sinks
In the cupola of a foundry's gloom,
You can't get his thoughts in the crowded room
And the clang and stir of a factory grim;
Then life is too busy and swift for him
To do more than snarl at the dirt and heat,
You can't read his mind on the busy street,
You must wait till you get him somewhere alone,
Then he'll make his dreams and his fancies known

They are merely men as they walk to work,
Mechanic and foreman and drudge and clerk,
Laughing or frowning, or sad or gay,
Merely a throng as they go their way;
But each of them's bringing a thought to bloom
Which you never will see in a factory's gloom.
Never from seven to five you'll find
The nobler side of the toiler's mind,
But somewhere away from the world's harsh tone
He'll tell what he thinks when he's all alone

Out in the woods by stream or hill,
When the stars come out and the night is still,
He will turn to you and he'll whisper low
Of the thousand things which he wants to know,
He'll utter his faith in a simple way,
He'll tell what he says when he kneels to pray
He'll talk of eternal joys to be—
Oh, a different sort of man you'll see
Than the toiler grim in the furnace hole
When you get him alone and he bares his soul.

HE COUGHED FOR TWO YEARS Swore Off

After coughing for two years almost continuously a man of considerable means got thin and tired and worn out, made his will, and was ready to quit the big game of life.

A friend spoke to him about Bronchuline Emulsion and now life to him is very sweet indeed.

That's the kind of a cough that si put out of business with amazing speed when the cougher is wise to Bronchuline Emulsion.

Tough old coughs—persistent coughs—coughs that hang on and rob people of their sleep—those are the kind of coughs Bronchuline likes to tackle.

Many times such coughs linger after the Grip or a heavy cold, and if you have one ro know of anyone who has one keep Bronchuline Emulsion in mind.

It isn't just a cheap sweet cough syrup—it's the best cough remedy—and the best is never cheap. Green's Public Drug Store and dealers everywhere can supply you. adv

LIMA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Musicians Form Organization; Metheany is President

PRACTICES ARE HELD

35 Members and Business Men Support Movement

Lima may have its own symphony orchestra in the very near future if present plans of a number of prominent musicians and business men are carried to completion, George H. Metheany, manager of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Co., announced Tuesday.

The movement has been under way for the past eight months, Metheany said. During that time 35 musicians have been practicing every week at the Elks' Home and have practically perfected the organization of a civic symphony orchestra.

OFFICERS NAMED

Monday night members of the orchestra met with a number of business men and Metheany was appointed as temporary chairman of the organization. W. W. Crooks, a member of the orchestra and prominent railway official, was named as chairman of a committee to draw up a constitution. Mrs. Harry Macdonald and Mrs. J. W. Dimond were also named for the committee.

The movement started eight months ago when five local musicians gave a short program before the Women's Music club. Since then it has grown gradually and now is practically a sure thing.

The orchestra likely will give a concert at the Faurot Opera House in the near future, Metheany said. If it is a success, it will begin giving concerts out of town.

3 DEAD; 2 HURT

Accidents Exact Heavy Toll in Cleveland

CLEVELAND — A pretty girl, 18 years old, with bobbed hair, who wears an engagement ring, was near death early today, the victim of a motorist who ran her down at a car stop last night and fled. Hospital physicians say her skull is fractured and her chance of recovery slight.

Deaths yesterday of a woman and two men, victims of automobile accidents brought Cleveland's record of fatalities for the year to 138. Besides these, a two year old boy who broke away from his mother's grasp and dashed across the street, was struck by a car and suffered a fractured skull.

Instead of having his mother for company at dinner and the moving picture theatre afterward, Arthur Yates, living on the south side, found her body in the morgue after he had waited downtown at the meeting place appointed before he left home in the morning. The mother, Mrs. Mary Yates, 69, was killed in the downtown section.

VOTE IN PUTNAM-CO IS HEAVY; CITIZENS VISIT POLLS EARLY

OTTAWA — Early indications Tuesday were to the effect that a large vote would be polled and before 10 a. m., it was figured, more than one-half of this vote would be cast.

Both major parties are leaving no stone unturned to get the voters to the polls.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union of Putnam-co made a campaign, especially urging that every person should vote as they pleased, but vote.

Automobiles were drafted into service to bring the sick, infirm and aged to the polls.

MOTOR SALES CO. TAKES WAGE CASE ON APPEAL

Troubles of Jack O'Malley, detective, will never cease, it seems.

After being arrested charged with misappropriation of $40 belonging to the Timmerman Motor Sales Co., the case was dismissed and in turn O'Malley sued the auto agency, for his back wages, getting a verdict for $112.50.

Now the Timmerman Motor Sales Co., dissatisfied with the decision, has appealed the case to common pleas court. It may not be tried until next year as there are approximately 400 other cases on the docket.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS MAY USE PORTABLE X-RAY

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — The recent announcement here of the development in the General Electric laboratories of a portable X-Ray machine has brought inquiries from a Central American government concerning the possibility of obtaining 1200 for use of customs inspectors at ports of entry. The portable X-Ray, according to its inventor, has the power of disclosing contents of bundles, and of penetrating the walls of a room or a trunk and it was thought the device might be adapted to customs inspection work. The machine is not yet ready for commercial development, according to reports here.

Narrow shoulder straps and sketchy draperies constitute the costume of Vera Makinnon, American dancer, in Paris. Fellow Americans protested at her garb two years ago, but now she is as generously revealing as ever.

100 MORE VOTERS ARE QUALIFIED ON MONDAY

More than 100 voters nosed under the wire by a hair's breath Monday afternoon when they were qualified to cast a ballot in Tuesday's election.

The electors were those persons who were out of the city on the regular dates. They appeared before the board in person and certified that they were absent.

A constant stream of applicants poured into the offices of the board all afternoon, and a number applied after the closing time at 5:30 p. m. They were disappointed.

The additional registration raises the total of the city to approximately 18,380. The previous figure was 18,276, while four years ago 17,775 were registered.

FILLING STATIONS TO BE PROBED BY CITY

Location of gasoline filling stations at least 25 feet from the curb is proposed by City Manager C. A. Bingham as a safety measure in connection with the city's program to restrict the invasion of filling station into residential districts.

In a letter Monday night to city commission the city manager cited three instances where stations are located less than 25 feet from the curb and one place where station stands less than 35 feet from the curb.

Commissioner deferred action for one week upon advice of Solicitor Paul T. Landis who is to investigate the city legal authority and report at the next legislative session.

INSPECT MINE

Dell Mullins, formerly of Lima, and F. W. Klett, mining engineer of Toledo, left Tuesday for an inspection of the Goudreau gold mine located at Goudreau, Ontario, 174 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie. This mine is said to be one of the best in Ontario.

Y. W. WITHDRAWS FROM EDUCATION WEEK PLANS

NEW YORK — Coincident with publication of communications with Commissioner of Education John J. Tigert in which it charged among other things that the promotion of National Education Week, November 17 to 23, had been "turned over to a military organization" (the American Legion) the American Civil Liberties union announced last night that the national board of the Young Women's Christian association had "declined to participate" in the movement.

The announcement was made by Roger N. Baldwin, director of the Union, who said the information was conveyed to him in a letter from Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. He said that Miss Cratty wrote him the decision was made "because of certain elements in the announced program inconsistent with the position of the organization's national board in regard to world peace and international co-operation."

FIVE MINUTE PARKING ASKED BY LIMA BANKS

City Manager C. A. Bingham is to investigate traffic conditions in front of local banks in connection with a petition from six such institutions for a five minute parking law.

The petition signed by officials of the Lima Trust Co., The First American bank, The Old National bank, City bank, Metropolitan bank and Lima Dime Savings bank asked for a five minute law similar to the one enforced at the postoffice.

Commission heard the petition and after a short discussion referred the question to City Manager Bingham with instructions to investigate and report back at the meeting next Monday night.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

My Dear Miss Smart

I read your column every evening and some of the questions and answers are intelligent and some are nonsense, but if answers to their questions mean as much to them as your answer to mine does to me then your help to us all has not been in vain.

My question is: Where and how can I become a beauty [illegible]? Is there some place in town I could serve an apprenticeship? Would I have to put up bond? How much? How long will the course take?

Would I have to work until [illegible] in the evening? Please answer this as soon as possible and do not refer me to a beauty parlor. MISS [illegible]

There is no school of Beauty Culture in Lima and the only way your could learn would be to serve an apprenticeship in some Beauty Parlor, for a very meagre salary. As this would not be a regular course it would be impossible for me to say just now long it would take to finish. Some girls learn more easily than others. [illegible] no bond is required and you will undoubtedly have to work until 5:30 o'clock. If you really want to learn time should not enter your mind. I can't imagine any other place I could refer you to if you didn't want me to send you to a beauty parlor. In order to get employment there I believe it would be necessary to apply to the beauty parlors and not sit at home wondering.

• • •

Dear Miss Smart [illegible]

[illegible]

The marriage license must be taken out in the county where the girl resides, altho the ceremony may be performed in any part of the state. In Allen county at least, the girl's word will be taken for her age.

• • •

Dear Miss Smart

I have been taking a hot bath every evening before retiring and my mother tells me too many hot baths are detrimental to my vitality. What do you think of it? GRACE

A hot bath taken before going to sleep, is a good method of inducing restful sleep and new vitality. But do not make the mistake of getting the water too hot. Have it pleasantly so and do not stay in too long. A prolonged bath that is too hot is likely to sap your vitality.

Dear Miss Smart

I am engaged to be married and I wonder if you think it all right for me to go out with other young men. He lives a great distance from me and I only see him once in about six weeks. He doesn't mind me going with other boys, but people have been talking. The young men with whom I go out are good friends of both my fiance and me.

(2) What time should my fiance leave when he comes in the evening.

(3) Do you think eight months is too long to be engaged?

(4) Who should plan the wedding, he or I?

(5) Who should plan the dinner.

(6) When a couple is going to housekeeping right after marriage is it proper to leave for home right after the ceremony or should we spend time with one's people.

L. H B

It is not proper for you to accept the attentions of other young men, when you are to be engaged to be married. Whey you become engaged it usually signifies that you are prefectly willing to give up the attentions of the other young men of your acquaintance. Your fiance should leave about 11 o'clock, so that you may have your proper rest since you are a social worker. No I don't think eight months is too long for an engagement. You should talk about the arrangements with your fiance and decide on things mutually. You and your family should plan the wedding dinner. Immediately following the wedding and reception you could go to your home.

Ottawa Society

Dr J A Harold and Mrs. Harold have been entertaining Mrs. H. M. Dolson, of Urbana, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Landis, of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. L. Culver, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs Harold is a niece of the families. Henry Harold, who came from Cleveland for a visit with his parents, has returned home.

Putnam chapter, No. 28, Order of the Eastern Star, will initiate a class of candidates at a special meeting Wednesday night at Masonic temple. The session will begin at 7 p m. A covered dish supper will be served, following the initiation ceremonies.

The marriage of Miss Edith Allen, of Detroit, and Norman Fenbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fenbert, residing near Ottawa, was an event of October 25, and was celebrated in Detroit. Fenbert has been employed in Detroit for several years. He and his bride came to Ottawa to attend the wedding of Miss Florence Fenbert, a sister, and Felix Gulker, of Glandorf, celebrated last week in Sts Peter and Paul's Roman Catholic church. Mr and Mrs. Fenbert have concluded their visit and have returned to their home in Detroit.

SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

CINCINNATI — William H Vogel, art director of the Cincinnati Public school and Miss Frances Jenkins of the University of Cincinnati will be among the speakers at the meeting of the Central Ohio Teachers' association at Columbus, Nov. 7 and 8. "Ohio, the Pivotal State," will be the subject discussed by Vogel, Miss Jenkins' subject will be "Problems of Phonetics."

FARM BUREAU AGENT TO STUDY SOIL PROBLEMS

OTTAWA — J. W. Henceroth, county agricultural extension agent, is planning to be of real service to farmers.

He has sent out blanks, asking farmers to bring every soil problem to him for solution.

Farmers who have had difficulty in getting a stand of clover or alfalfa, or whose oats lodge or wheat yield is shriveled or of poor quality grain have been given a special invitation to consult the farm agent.

Henceroth is calling attention to the fact that many farmers this year did not have corn which matured as rapidly as necessary and soft corn resulted. He figures that such farms need an annual legume to fit them into rotation as a soil improver.

A sight of a lifetime and worth coming miles to see. Every citizen of Lima and vicinity should see this wonderful piece of workmanship. It's a marvel of ingenuity and artistic skill. It exhibits the front elevation of the National Capitol--the mammoth Arch of Triumph with its ornamental column of Liberty and Chariot of Progress. This great hall flanked with smaller halls running through the entire building is shown with marked exactness as to its features and adornment. This masterpiece is executed in one of our show windows, and with the one purpose in view, to make you acquainted with ROYAL CUTICLE SOAP WE ARE SOLE AGENTS FOR THIS SECTION

The Affair at Flower Acres

By CARLYLE WELLS

©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Douglas Raynor is found shot thru the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the door, switch in a moment Nancy appears, white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother; Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley; Miss Mattie, Raynor's sister, and others, enter upon the scene. Detective Dobbins heads the police investigation. An autopsy reveals that Raynor also was being systemmatically poisoned with arsenic. Lionel Raynor, son of Douglas Raynor by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate. Finley accused Grimshaw Gannon, a hired man, of hiding the original will which favors Nancy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"The copy was found in your house."

"That doesn't prove the original is there."

"It proves that it may be," and Finley watched closely the changing countenance of the man.

"Maybe's a long way off," Gannon said.

He puzzled Finley; and Goddard too, was at a loss just how to take him.

But as if by an inspiration, Finley said suddenly, "Oh, of course you don't know anything about it. But we can get all necessary information from Peters—the other witness."

"Peters!" Gannon's face fell. "You don't know where he is."

"Oh don't we!"

"Say—do you know where Peters is?" Gannon was whining now.

"We do. Now, here's your last chance, Gannon." This from Goddard. "Do you want to come clean about the will — or take your chances on getting into trouble over the thing?"

Gannon considered. He looked from one to the other, and shrewdly concluded they were—partly, at least—bluffing.

"I'll take my chances," he said, and resumed his pipe.

And no amount of further cajolery threatening or argument could gain any more information from him.

* * *

Detectives Dobbins had a long session with Doctor Saxton.

The family physician admitted that there had been occasions when he had felt a slight suspicion that Douglas Raynor indulged in morphine, but he had never seen sufficient definite symptoms to prove it to his own satisfaction. Dobbins' story of the morphine Nan threw away made him very thoughtful.

"I do wish I could prove up her case," he said. "No, I've never suspected her of touching morphine herself—and I'm sure she wasn't an addict—but when a woman suffers as she has, it is not surprising if they turn to narcotics for relief."

"Never mind your opinions, Doc, get down to facts. Was there any trace of morphine found in the stomach of Douglas Raynor at the autopsy?"

"Not a trace," and Doctor Saxton looked carefully at the report he held.

"What would be the cure?"

"Why, atropine, of course."

"Was any trace of atropine mentioned in the report?"

"No", and again the doctor scrutinized the typewritten statement.

"But there was plenty of evidence of cumulative arsenical poisoning."

"Plenty."

"Then the yarn falls to the ground. It was clever, but she is the first woman I believe, as you suggested, that her troubles forced her to the use of morphine. But she destroyed it rather than have it known to be in her possession. That she pretended it was her husband who took it, to save her own reputation. And then, it came in handy to say the tablets she gave him secretly were to cure him of the drug habit—there are two things, aren't there—?"

"Oh, yes. There are such remedies advertised, and many foolish, hopeful wives have secretly tried to cure their unsuspecting husbands of the drink or drug habit by such means."

"Why foolish wives?"

"Well, the kind of morphine she threw away—white powder—is the kind that is taken internally isn't it."

"Yes."

"If taken recently enough."

"Also atropine would show traces?"

"If taken recently enough."

"Well, as neither of these things are shown and as arsenic is shown I'm betting that those tablets were arsenic—and I'm going to work on that belief."

"You're a detective and I'm only a doctor. But I've known Mrs. Raynor pretty well and I can't bring myself to believe that she would poison her husband?"

"Have you ever known of a woman who did kill her husband?"

The doctor thought a moment. "Yes—I have known of two cases."

"And in either case would you have believed that that woman would kill her husband?"

"No. I would not. I could scarcely believe it after I knew it was the truth."

"That's the answer," said Dobbins. "Now, you knew that the Raynors were not happy together, didn't you?"

"Nobody could be happy with that man. I don't see why she ever married him."

"Probably for his money."

"It must have been."

"Now, here's another point, Doctor. That nurse he had. Why did he have her?"

"Oh Raynor was a diet crank—there are lots of them nowadays. He was a dietitian, and she pandered to his fads and fancies."

"Is that all there was to it?"

"So far as I know. What do you mean?"

"I didn't altogether like the things of that nurse. I didn't like the way she looked at Mrs. Raynor—"

"Jealous?"

"Vindictive, rather. She bore Mrs. Raynor no good will—of that I'm sure. And she was a sly one. Moreover, she left hurriedly, and took with her a big sum of money."

"Whose?"

"Oh, her own—at least, they say it was. But it's strange for a man to give such a lot of money to a nurse—unless he's in love with her. And I've found no hint that such was the case."

"Oh, no. Miss Turner was not a young woman—nor in any way a fascinating woman. Also, Raynor wasn't that sort of a man. He had faults, he was a brute to his wife, he was a cold blooded fish, but he wasn't a woman fancier—not at all."

"Well, then, the nurse had sort of a hold over him—"

"No; Raynor wouldn't be in thrall of any sort to any woman."

"She might have known something about him—"

"Not likely—though possible.

"MARRIED HIM AT YOUR FATHER'S ORDERS, EH?"

Well, Mr. Detective, if you suspect Miss Turner of any wrongdoing, why did you let her get away?"

"I don't exactly suspect her of wrongdoing—but I'd like to question her about Raynor. And I'm going to do it."

CHAPTER XII

As to Miss Turner

"Mrs. Raynor," Dobbins said, speaking gravely and very respectfully, "I wonder if you can tell me anything about your husband's young life—before you married him."

"Only in a general way," Nan answered. "He was married before, you know, and had one child, Lionel. I never knew his first wife; I think she died before they had been married many years."

"It was a love match?" ventured the detective.

"Are those questions necessary, Mr. Dobbins?"

"Perhaps not absolutely necessary, but advisable."

"Then I will say that while Mr. Raynor had my esteem and respect, I was not what may be called in love with him."

"But married him at your father's orders, eh?"

"In accordance with my father's wishes, certainly."

"And have no reason to regret the step?"

"I protest, Mr Dobbins."

"Well, Mrs Raynor, to tell you the truth, I am trying to get at something, and I don't know just how to put it. But, if I must say it bluntly, was your husband ever interested in any other woman during his married life with you?"

"No," she said, "I am sure I can affirm that he was not. It may be I am mistaken, but I knew my husband's ways and character very well, and I am positive that there was no attachment of the sort you suggest."

"How about before he married you?"

"Of that I cannot speak with authority. I was acquainted with Mr. Raynor for less than a year before we were married."

"I don't mean casual affairs, or slight attachments, but do you know of no episode in his life so serious as to cause any one—any woman—to wish to bring about his death?"

"No;" but Nan looked troubled.

"I am sure, Mrs. Raynor, you have some one in mind."

"Mr. Dobbins, have you any one in mind? If so, name her, and I will tell you if I can corroborate your suspicions."

"Very well, then"—Dobbins glanced around — "the nurse, Miss Turner."

Nancy Raynor looked startled.

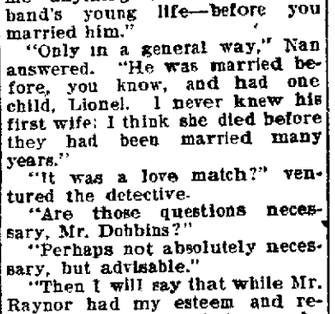

"I hate to breathe suspicion with no real evidence to go upon," she said, slowly, "but I have had doubts of Miss Turner's sincerity. Yet my reasons are so slight—merely a glance of hers at my husband, when she thought no one saw her, or a stern set of her lips as she turned away from him. This may have been only in my imagination, but from many such instances I somehow gathered that she hated him."

"If so, Mrs. Raynor, that would presuppose a previous acquaintance, would it not?"

"It would seem so" Nan meditated. "It's queer I can't mention any definite occurrence, but I feel sure she hated Mr. Raynor strongly, vindictively, and—oh, do you think she shot him?"

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT, CONTINUED

Ere this, Leslie, you have probably been told by Mrs. Burke, who seems to keep in close touch with you, that Priscilla Bradford has at last terminated her visit. I am grieved to say that she wore out her welcome. She, too, has disappointed me grieviously.

After she had persuaded me that it would be something you would like very much to have us oversee the cleaning and putting in order of your apartment, she left the whole matter to the ignorant people she had hired to do the work. I must say that she just about ruined the decoration and floors. However, I believe her intentions were good.

I hope you will exonerate me of any of the blame, for after Priscilla and I had spent one whole day taking your clothing out of your closet I found myself so tired that I turned everything over to her and did not try to do anything more.

One thing I must tell you about for I expect you have gotten an entirely erroneous idea of what was done about your desk from your supposed friend Mrs. Burke.

She acted very disagreeably over that desk I gave you for a wedding present. You will remember that both you and I thought there was a secret drawer in it, and as everything was being torn up I thought it would be a good time to send it to some cabinet maker and let him try to find the drawer.

Mrs. Burke found out that I had done this from my nurse Mrs. Anderson, whom I think quite overstepped her authority in the matter. She came rushing over to your apartment with that wire from you which peremptorily countermanded my order. The desk intact is now reposing in your morning room, at least it was there when I left for this hotel. I may as well tell you now that as far as I am concerned you will have to get along without knowing whether it has a secret drawer or not. I shall never again pay any more attention to it I have lost all interest.

You know by this time that Miss Anderson has left me. The new nurse that my doctor sent me I do not like nearly as well. This woman is not a lady. She contradicts me continually and pays no attention to me when I talk to her for any length of time She will get up and leave the room right in the midst of one of my sentences.

Miss Anderson called on me yesterday and much to my surprise told me that she would not have left it Priscilla had not always been snooping around and making trouble

I am very sorry to tell you that Miss Anderson is more than half right, and I am impatiently waiting until you return and dismiss this nurse so that Miss Anderson can come back.

Also when you do return I hope you will make Mrs Burke understand that she owes me an apology.

Sincerely your mother,

MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It can lead to many others. Twenty years' suffering with constipation undermined this man's health. Kellogg's Bran restored it—as it has done for thousands. This is what he says:

"Gentlemen:

After eating Kellogg's Bran twice a day for one month I find it not only an 'Easy Way to Avoid Constipation,' but an easy and most pleasant way to cure it. I have been troubled with constipation . . . for more than twenty years . . . after adopting the milk and bran diet I find my stomach greatly improved, and find it a specific for constipation.

. . . I deem it only justice that you should know what your product has done for me, and what it is capable of doing for others."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Kellogg's Bran relieves mild and chronic constipation because it is ALL bran. It brings sure results. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine in nature's own way. Don't experiment. Only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring permanent relief—or your grocer returns your money. You should eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

The flavor is delicious—nut-like—cooked and krumbled. Enjoy it with milk or cream, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the delightful recipes on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Don't be misled by cheap substitutes. The genuine Churngold comes in the red and green package at all leading grocers.

ILLINI MOST HOPEFUL OF BIG TEN GRIDDERS

CHICAGO — Western Conference title aspiration ranged from buoyant hope to black despair as six teams began working for Saturday championship games and the four others for non conference opponent.

Most optimistic of title contenders were Illinois, conqueror of Michigan and Iowa, and Chicago victor over Purdue and Indiana and tied with Ohio. Chicago has been pointing for the Illini here Saturday ever since the season began. Secret practice devoted to defensive plays calculated to stop Red Grange, Illini ace, and his mates was the order of Coach Stagg [illegible]

Scarcely less hopeful of ultimate success was Ohio undefeated but tied in conference champion ship contest as it arranged for its first meeting with Indiana since 1917. The Hoosiers twice beat [illegible] own [illegible] the Buckeyes to their own station among the conference [illegible]

While Northwestern and Michigan both defeated [illegible] had some hope of elevating themselves in the title scramble. The Purple [illegible] in the list of conference winners after a two years layoff was determined to stay there, while Michigan hoped that continued victories might put her back in the title running provided the leaders suffered defeats.

Minnesota, Iowa and Purdue virtually out of conference title consideration planned only perfunctory practice for Ames, Butler and Depauw respectively while they kept a mind on conference [illegible]

PRODUCER IS MAKING GOOD

"Frivolous Sal" to Be Next Offering of J. K. McDonald

Nearly all successful motion picture producers knew hard work and close figuring in youth. Marcus Loew and Adolph Zukor were humble furriers. Jesse L. Lasky played a cornet in an orchestra. Hal Roach drove dog teams in Alaska. All these men, wealthy and famous, were in picturesque actually from the start.

But an interesting producer with a different history, a man who entered the field when the industrial lines were pretty well established and who knew nothing whatever about movies, but whose success is phenomenal, altho he has been in it no more than two years, is J. K. McDonald.

McDonald is one of First National's independent producers whose picture he made was "Penrod and Sam"—and that was a big hit.

He simply had to make good. He later got him to invest a big chunk of his savings in a picture that threatened to fail badly. He was a sheer gambler. But when he saw his money about to be lost, he went in and learned. He took charge of everything, hired a director and turned out a series of screen subjects that saved his investment.

Then an admirer of Booth Tarkington, he went to First National and outlined a picture based on several of the author's famous stories. He offered to make the picture for nothing, if they would finance and release it. The agreement resulted in the making of "Penrod and Sam" and "Tol'able Mine," which many critics ranked among the best of the year. More recently he made "The Man Made Failure."

Now came McDonald's chance to realize a long held ambition—to produce a photoplay which would incorporate the magnificent scenic elements and drama of the country in which he had spent his young manhood. He had worked in logging and mining camps of the Pacific north west, in the country about Tacoma, Washington and in the Idaho silver regions.

So he wrote the story of "Frivolous Sal," a tale over which he had brooded a good deal in the lumber and the diggings, engaged Victor Schertzinger to direct it, selected a cast including Eugene O'Brien, Mae Busch, Ben Alexander, Mildred Harris Mitchell, Lewis and Tom Santschi and hied him to the flank of Mt. Rainier (Mt. Tacoma) and into the Coeur de Alenes to photograph his old dream.

McDonald is 35. He has been less than two years in pictures. Few men in this business have equaled his record of rapid achievement.

CHIMNEY INSPECTION

ST. MARYS — (Special) — Inspection of chimneys before heating units in homes are hereafter ordered as urged by Fire Chief Tony Hess to prevent roof fires and possible destruction of homes. Fire Johnson says a majority of dwelling fires are caused by live sparks or by defective chimneys.

STREET PAVING

Improvement by paving of Third from High st to Northern distance of less than one block has been authorized by the commission. This strip was unimproved when High st was paved as the city at the time was unwilling to assume the expense. But it was not tenanted at that.

SPITLER NAMED

ST. MARYS — (Special) — C. O. Spitler, the new president of St. Township board of trustees succeeds the late Amos Dowty. Spitler was elected vice president to succeed Simpson Poppo, who declined upon moving to another township. Ed H. Quellhorst is the new member of the board.

At the Sigma

The picture strikes a vibrant emotional chord in the unfolding of the romance of Bobo, a dancer at "Red" Bishop's famous resort. Bobo, as played by Miss Hammerstein, is a human, lovable and sympathetic character. Her humanness is demonstrated, when, at the outset of the story, she guilelessly invites to her humble home, a man who has drifted into Red Bishop's, believing his story that he is an author in search of atmosphere and thus desiring to help him. When it turns out that he is using her as means to obtain a divorce for his wife, and when "Red" who has a desire to possess Bobo, arrives in time to knock out the man, Bobo does the unexpected by keeping the stranger and nursing him back to health.

Thus starts an unusual and engrossing romance—two bits of human driftwood each attracted to the other. The man, in reality, is a distinguished lawyer who has been sent on the downward path by the falseness of his wife. The film progresses to two gripping situations which have to do with the desire of the wife to get back her husband after he has been regenerated by Bobo and the hardships suffered by the latter when she loses her job and is ridiculed by her friends. How the story moves to a happy ending is one of the best twists of the picture.

BIG GRAIN FIRE

PITTSBURGH — Fed by hundreds of tons of grain, fire at 1:30 o'clock this morning destroyed the grain elevator and building of the Dwight Hamlin Co., Inc., burned six box cars on the Allegheny Valley railroad siding and drove six families from their homes. JEWS CHANGING THEIR NAMES

Settlers of Palestine Adopt Hebrew Equivalents

JERUSALEM — (By United Press)—The revival of Hebrew as an everyday language of Palestine is resulting in wholesale changes in the names of Jews who are settling in the country, the Government Official Gazette, where all changes of names must be registered, reveals. In former years Jews dropped their Hebrew names to adopt names of the countries in which they were residing. Now they are returning to the language in which their names appeared two thousand years ago.

A recent issue of the Official Gazette shows the following changes in names of German, Russian and Polish origin. Goldman has become Zahabi (man of gold) while Silverman by the same token is now known as Kaspi. Flowery names like Blumberg and Rosenberg now have the Hebrew equivalents of Parchi and Vardi, respectively. Feldman, literally man of the field, has been changed to Haklai (farmer), Abramson has become Abrahami, while Yudelson will henceforth be known as Ben Yehuda (son of Judah).

Names like Shapiro, Cohen and Levy remain unchanged during this Hebrew revival, for they are already in Hebrew.

MRS. MARY WRIGHT DIES AT HOME IN ALLENTOWN

Mrs. Mary Jane Wright 85, pioneer resident of Allen-co, died Monday at her home in Allentown. Death was due to infirmities of age after an illness of two years.

Mrs. Wright was born in American-tp. Feb. 16, 1839, and is survived by one son, M. V. Wright, Allentown, and two daughters, Mrs. M. O. Verbryke, Allentown, and Mrs. Steve Bowman, Toledo.

Services will be conducted Thursday at 10 a. m. at Allentown M. E. church in charge of Rev. Charles Wire. Burial will be in Allentown cemetery.

CHARACTERS PICKED

BOGART ESTATE VALUED AT MORE THAN $14,000

COLUMBUS GROVE — A value of $14,500 in personal property and $7,500 in real estate was set upon the estate of Mrs. Mary N. Bogart, widow of the late E. A. Bogart, former sheriff of Allen-co, who died on Sept. 12.

A. L. Belch, of Columbus Grove, was appointed administrator T. G. Newell, of Monrovia, Cal., is the only surviving relative. Residence of a brother John D. Newell is unknown, according to the papers filed in probate court.

Belch gave bond in the sum of $18,000. Charles Benroth, W. H. Crawford and John Begg were appointed appraisers of the estate.

DEATH OF MRS. MILLER CAUSED BY APOPLEXY

Following an illness of five weeks from apoplexy, Mrs. Martha Miller, 70, died Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Neely, 610 N. Cole-st.

Mrs. Miller was a pioneer resident of Allen-co. In addition to Mrs. Neely, she leaves another daughter, Mrs. Vina Hanning, of Detroit, and two sons, Oscar Brower, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Oliver Brower, of Washington, Pa.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

CAST BUSY

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it.

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick.

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a 25c box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since.

I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

MR D ZELINKA

Stomach Bloated With Gas Was His Worry

Mr. D. Zelinka of 15 East 26th Street, N. Y., writes "I want you to know that no day passed for months and months that did not find my stomach bloated with gas and shooting pains darting through my stomach. I felt hungry at times, but as soon as I started eating, food nauseated me and I became bilious. My tongue was coated, had bad taste and breath was offensive. I never thought this could all be from my liver, but my liver it must have been, for the very first day after taking your wonderful Carter's Little Liver Pills I felt like a new person. The small dose makes them easy to take, too."

Good Want Ads Are Money-Savers For Landlords

Quick action is necessary when rooms are to be rented. Each day of vacancy robs the landlord of the rent money that he should be getting. It is therefore foolish to invest in inefficient advertising methods simply because they are cheap. Action is what is needed, and only the best methods can find tenants promptly. Lima News Want Ads, bringing prompt action from room seekers, produce profits for landlords.

Mrs. Mary Haller, 215 E. Spring St., used this News Want Ad a short time ago when she wished to locate renters:

"The results were wonderful," she said. "I received replies to my Want Ad for nearly two weeks after the last insertion."

OHIO CONDEMNS 800 WELLS

Safety on State Highways is Aim of Department

COUNTIES AID IN WORK

Markers Guide Tourists in Choosing Supply

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—Engineers of the Ohio department of health, in the last few months, have examined and certified as O. K. more than 800 wells along the main traveled highways of the state, under what is known as the "seal of safety campaign." This was started last November by W. H. Dittoo, chief sanitary engineer of the department, and has as its object the assurance of safe drinking water. Ralph C. Sweeney and C. S. Slade, assistant engineers, and Dr. W. P. Johnson, supervisor in the departmental division of communicable diseases, compose the field staff making the investigation.

The first well actually sealed was at the storage dam here. Most of the work thus far has been done by engineers from the central department at Columbus, but the staffs of a number of county health departments have undertaken it in co-operation with the engineering division of the state department of health and this plan will be extended during the coming year. Periodic re-examination of the supplies will be made by county health officials. More than 800 supplies have been investigated so far and those found to be safe for drinking purposes have been so marked.

MANY BAD WELLS

A large percentage of the wells investigated have been found unsatisfactory, due to their location with reference to contaminating agencies, but in a great many cases, according to State Health Director Monger, the objections have been eliminated.

The field survey, analytical and record work required to locate and mark safe drinking water supplies in the rural districts is progressing in 23 counties and will be extended into others. The National road—State highway No. 1—has been covered the entire width of the state. The Three C's has been surveyed from Cleveland to Cincinnati; the Dixie—No. 6—is complete from Cincinnati to Vandalia, and parts of No. 11, No. 201 and some others, where they touch on these main traveled roads, have been reported on. Three men will be at work soon on the Chicago-Buffalo highway—No. 2—the heaviest traveled road in the state and by the time cold weather sets in it is expected to have the Scioto trail—No. 4—surveyed.

WATCHES TAKEN

Four watches, valued at $50, were stolen from the show window at the I. Gordon Second Hand store at 115 E. Wayne-st, about 6 p. m. Monday.

The robbery was discovered by the proprietor about 8 p. m. and he called the police, who investigated, but were unable to locate the guilty party.

Dr. W. H. Beery filed a complaint at police headquarters Monday afternoon that some one stole his medicine grip from his automobile while it was parked on N. Elizabeth-st.

TED VOTES AND THEN GETS SLEEP

Ted came out of cover today and cast his ballot, or rather four ballots, like a good citizen should. I'll now tell you who I voted for," Ted said, "but that would be telling who the winners are to be. You see had inside information and now just who to vote for." Ted then took a nap so he could stay up all night waiting for the returns to come in. He is expecting it to be fair and cooler Tuesday night and partly cloudy Wednesday.

WOMAN, 104, VOTES

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. — Among the first voters at the polls in Jamestown today was Amy E. Price, 104 years old. She took her place in the line of voters, waited her turn, asked no help in the ballot population of the voting booths.

LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT

NEWARK, Ohio — Leeman A. Bell, 87, of Utila, cast his 17th ballot for a Democratic presidential candidate today. His first ballot was cast in 1860 for Stephen A. Douglas. He has always voted in the same township.

BANKER TO SPEAK

OTTAWA — J. C. Jones, cashier of the First National bank of Ottawa, will address the Farm Bureau Liberty-up on next Tuesday night. He will devote his talk to a general discussion of notes, checks and bank accounts, especially as they concern the farmer.

BIG FIRE LOSS

GRATZ, Pa. — Property valued at more than $200,000 was destroyed by fire which swept the center of this town early today, destroying the Union hotel and thirteen adjoining buildings. The blaze was put under control after help had been summoned from nearby towns.

MARKETS CLOSED

All grain and stock markets were closed Tuesday, it being election day.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT BUDGET IS APPROVED

WASHINGTON—At a conference with General Lord, budget director, President Coolidge today approved most of next year's departmental estimates for all the activities of the federal government except the treasury, the navy and the District of Columbia.

The estimates approved, Lord said after the conference, have been returned to the various departments for final allocation.

"The budget total, leaving out interest on the national debt, and the post office department will be well below $1,800,000,000," said Lord.

The budget will be presented to congress when it meets in December.

TRANSFORMER BURNS

Firemen answered a call at Elm and Baxter-sts at 1:15 p. m. Monday when a transformer on a high-line pole of the Ohio Power Co. caught fire. The transformer was knocked from the pole, after which the flames consumed it.

DEMAND PENSION RAISE

PARIS—Five thousand war mutilated veterans staged a demonstration around the tomb of the unknown soldier clamoring for increased pensions.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman Honor Guests at Dinner

GLANDORF — Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman, residing three miles west of Glandorf, celebrated their golden wedding Tuesday. Mrs Mershman is 68 and her husband, 68. A five-course dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Veronica Rieman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mershman were married at Glandorf and spent most of their lives here.

Those who enjoyed the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mershman and children, of Ottoville; Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kerner and children; Mrs. Angelia Ellerbrook and daughter; Mrs. Veronica Rieman and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. John Kehres and children; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerdeman and children, of Kalida; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin and children, of Columbus Grove; Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bockrath and children, of Cuba.

NIGHT SCHOOLS OPEN HERE

Persons Over 18 Years Old Are Eligible for Classes

Night school at both South and Central high schools was started Monday night with large attendance, Prof. R. E. Offenhauer, superintendent of city schools, said Tuesday morning. He was unable to give the exact registration as all records had not been tabulated.

Registration limit for those who desire to enter the night school has been extended to Wednesday night, Offenhauer said. This will make it possible for many more to register who were unable to do so Monday.

"There seems to be some doubt as to the age limit of the day school, continuation school and night school students," Offenhauer said. "All under 16 years of age must be in day school and none will be excused. Students over 16 and under 18 may get schooling certificates in order to go to work, but they must go to continuation school 4 hours a week.

"Anyone over 18 who is not in day school may enter night school and those continuation school students who wish, may also register for night school. Day school students absolutely will not be permitted to register for the night school, however," the superintendent said.

FOREST FIRES BURN OUT; THREE HUNTERS MISSING

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Forest fires which menaced lives and property and destroyed hundreds of acres of timber land in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania during the past week had burned themselves out or were under control today.

Three hunters from Albany who went into a section of the Adirondacks which was burned over this week end—still were missing and were feared to have perished.

Fire wardens and volunteers remained on guard near Highbridge, N. J., but flames which menaced buildings there were controlled.

Fires on Bear Creek mountain in Pennsylvania had been checked. Hunters still were barred from this district.

DAVIS IS ASSURED BIG VOTE IN SOLID SOUTH

Chief interest in the presidential contest in the south was focused on the race between President Coolidge and Senator LaFollette for runner up honors to the Democratic candidate. With favorable weather LaFollette was expected to attract a heavy rural vote.

Republicans however, claimed Tennessee and North Carolina for Coolidge.

HEAVY VOTE PROBABLE IN STATE OF INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS — Interest aroused by the injection of the Ku Klux Klan issue into the gubernatorial contest, generally fair and warm weather thruout the state and an appropriate registration of 1,665,000 voters were factors that seemed likely to bring out an unprecedented vote in Indiana today. Klan support was conceded to favor Ed Jackson, Republican candidate for governor, against Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, the Democratic nominee.

STREET ASSESSMENTS

Special assessments for the improvement of eight streets by paving were authorized Monday night by commissioners. The streets named were: Holmes-av, Central av, Robb-Av, Second-st, Grand-av, State-st, Wayne-st and S. Union-st.

VOTE IS HEAVY

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Springlike weather greeted the voters of West Virginia today as they went to the polls to cast what political leaders confidently predicted would be the largest vote in the history of the state. Unusual interest has been manifest in the election because for the first time the state has a native son, John W. Davis, leading one of the major party tickets.

STAFF MEETS

DELPHOS — Advertising staff of the "Delphi," Delphos High school year book, held a meeting at the Jefferson-bldg Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of making a report on the advertising space that has been collected for the annual. At least $500 must be raised, Principal D. M. King has announced.

HIO CONDEMNS 800 WELLS

Safety on State Highways Is Aim of Department

COUNTIES AID IN WORK

Markers Guide Tourists in Choosing Supply

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—Engineers of the Ohio department of health, in the last few months, have examined and certified as O. K. more than 800 wells along the main traveled highways of the state, under what is known as the "seal of safety campaign." This was started last November by W. H. Dittoe, chief sanitary engineer of the department, and has as its object the assurance of safe drinking water. Ralph C. Sweeney and C. S. Slade, assistant engineers, and Dr. W. P. Johnson, supervisor in the departmental division of communicable diseases, compose the field staff making the investigation.

The first well actually sealed was at the storage dam here. Most of the work thus far has been done by engineers from the central department at Columbus, but the staffs of a number of county health departments have undertaken it in co-operation with the engineering division of the state department of health and this plan will be extended during the coming year. Periodic re-examination of the supplies will be made by county health officials. More than 800 supplies have been investigated so far and those found to be safe for drinking purposes have been so marked.

MANY BAD WELLS

A large percentage of the wells investigated have been found unsatisfactory, due to their location with reference to contaminating agencies, but in a great many cases, according to State Health Director Monger; the objections have been eliminated.

The field survey, analytical and record work required to locate and mark safe drinking water supplies in the rural districts is progressing in 23 counties and will be extended into others. The National road—State highway No. 1—has been covered the entire width of the state. The Three C's has been surveyed from Cleveland to Cincinnati; the Dixie —No. 6—is complete from Cincinnati to Vandalia, and parts of No. 11, No. 201 and some others, where they touch on these main traveled roads, have been reported on. Three men will be at work soon on the Chicago-Buffalo highway—No. 2—the heaviest traveled road in the state and by the time cold weather sets in it is expected to have the Scioto trail —No. 4—surveyed.

WATCHES TAKEN

Four watches, valued at $50, were stolen from the show window at the I. Gordon Second Hand store at 115 E. Wayne-st, about 6 p. m. Monday.

The robbery was discovered by the proprietor about 8 p. m. and he called the police, who investigated, but were unable to locate the guilty party.

Dr. W. H. Beery filed a complaint at police headquarters Monday afternoon that some one stole his medicine grip from his automobile while it was parked on N. Elizabeth-st.

TED VOTES AND THEN GETS SLEEP

Ted came out of cover today and cast his ballot, or rather four ballots, like a good citizen should. I'd like to tell you who I voted for," Ted said, but that would be telling who the winners are to be. You see had inside information and now just who to vote for." Ted then took a nap so he could stay up all night waiting for the returns to come in. He is expecting it to be fair and cooler Tuesday night and partly cloudy Wednesday.

WOMAN, 104, VOTES

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. — Among the first voters at the polls in Jamestown today was Amy E. Price, 104 years old. She took her place in the line of voters, waited her turn, asked no help in the male population of the voting machine.

LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT

NEWARK, Ohio — Leeman A. Bell, 87, of Utila, cast his 17th ballot for a Democratic presidential candidate today His first ballot was cast in 1860 for Stephen A. Douglas. He has always voted in the same township.

BANKER TO SPEAK

OTTAWA — J. C. Jones, cashier of the First National bank of Ottawa, will address the Farm Bureau meeting in Liberty-tp on next Tuesday night. He will devote his talk to a general discussion of notes, checks and bank accounts, especially as they concern the farmer.

BIG FIRE LOSS

GRATZ, Pa. — Property valued at more than $200,000 was destroyed by fire which swept the centre of this town early today, destroying the Union hotel and thirteen adjoining buildings. The blaze was put under control after help had been summoned from nearby towns.

MARKETS CLOSED

All grain and stock markets were closed Tuesday, it being election day.

They have inherited $12,000,000, but Crawford Failey (below) and his wife (above), instructors at the University of California, are going to keep right on teaching and studying. The money was left them by Failey's grandfather, Crawford Failey, Terre Haute, Ind.

CABINET TO QUIT

Labor Government in England Soon to Pass

LONDON — (By Associated Press)—The cabinet of Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's first Labor government, resigned today. King George accepted the resignation.

* * *

LONDON — (By Associated Press)—The cabinet of Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's labor premier, whose government was defeated in last week's general election, met this afternoon. After its session it was stated authoritatively that MacDonald would call upon the king this evening to present his resignation which the sovereign would accept.

Later Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader and former prime ministre, will be summoned by King George to form a ministry.

MISS IDA GROVE DIES AT HOME OF PARENTS

DELPHOS — Miss Ida K. Grone, aged 18 years, 2 months, and 28 days, and the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] miles south of Delphos, died at the home of her parents on [illegible] day. Her death was said to have been caused by ulcers of the bowels.

She spent all her life in the vicinity of Delphos, and had been bedfast for seven weeks preceding her death.

Besides the mother and father, she is survived by four brothers, Frank, Clement, Leo and William and two sisters, Rosa and Cecelia, all living in the vicinity of Delphos. She was preceded in death by one brother.

She was a member of the St. John's Roman Catholic church, and funeral services will be held there Thursday at 9 a. m. Interment will be made at the St. John's cemetery.

OVERHEATED STOVE IN STORE CAUSES BLAZE

DELPHOS — Small blaze which occurred at the business house and residence of Nick Fritz, N. Canal-st, late Monday evening, was quickly extinguished by the members of the Delphos Volunteer Fire Department with the help of chemicals without damage.

Fritz who makes his home in the rear of the building, was unaware of the fire at the time. In the front of the building. The blaze started from an overheated stove close to the wall.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT BUDGET IS APPROVED

WASHINGTON—At a conference with General Lord, budget director, President Coolidge today approved next year's departmental estimates for all the activities of the federal government except the treasury, the navy and the District of Columbia.

The estimates approved, Lord said after the conference, have been returned to the various departments for final allocation.

"The budget total, leaving out interest on the national debt, and the post office department will be [illegible] below $1,800,000,000," said Lord.

The budget will be presented to congress when it meets in December.

TRANSFORMER BURNS

Firemen answered a call at Elm and Baxter-sts at 1:15 p. m. Monday when a transformer on a high-line pole of the Ohio Power Co. caught fire. The transformer was knocked from the pole, after which the flames consumed it.

DEMAND PENSION RAISE

PARIS—Five thousand war mutilated veterans staged a demonstration around the tomb of the unknown soldier clamoring for increased pensions.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman Honor Guests at Dinner

GLANDORF — Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman, residing three miles west of Glandorf, celebrated their golden wedding Tuesday. Mrs Mershman is 68 and her husband, 69. A five-course dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Veronica Rieman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mershman were married at Glandorf and spent most of their lives here.

Those who enjoyed the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mershman and children, of Ottoville; Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kerner and children; Mrs. Amelia Ellerbrook and daughter; Mrs. Veronica Rieman and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. John Kehres and children; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerdeman and children, of Kalida; Mr and Mrs. Henry Martin and children, of Columbus Grove; Mr. and Mrs. John Mershman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bockrath and children, of Cuba.

NIGHT SCHOOLS OPEN HERE

Persons Over 18 Years Old Are Eligible for Classes

Night school at both South and Central high schools was started Monday night with large attendance, Prof. R. E. Offenhauer, superintendent of city schools, said Tuesday morning. He was unable to give the exact registration as all records had not been tabulated.

Registration limit for those who desire to enter the night school has been extended to Wednesday night, Offenhauer said. This will make it possible for many more to register who were unable to do so Monday.

"There seems to be some doubt as to the age limit of the day school, continuation school and night school students," Offenhauer said. "All under 16 years of age must be in day school and none will be excused. Students over 16 and under 18 may get schooling certificates in order to go to work, but they must go to continuation school 4 hours a week.

"Anyone over 18 who is not in day school may enter night school and those continuation school students who wish, may also register for night school. Day school students absolutely will not be permitted to register for the night school, however," the superintendent said.

FOREST FIRES BURN OUT; THREE HUNTERS MISSING

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Forest fires which menaced lives and property and destroyed hundreds of acres of timber land in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania during the past week had burned themselves out or were under control today.

Three hunters from Albany who went into a section of the Adirondacks which was burned over this week end—still were missing and were feared to have perished.

Fire wardens and volunteers remained on guard near Highbridge, N. J., but flames which menaced buildings there were controlled.

Fires on Bear Creek mountain in Pennsylvania had been checked. Hunters still were barred from this district.

Chief interest in the presidential contest in the south was focused on the race between President Coolidge and Senator LaFollette for runner up honors to the Democratic candidate. With favorable weather LaFollette was expected to attract a heavy rural vote.

Republicans however, claimed Tennessee and North Carolina for Coolidge.

HEAVY VOTE PROBABLE IN STATE OF INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS — Interest aroused by the injection of the Ku Klux Klan issue into the gubernatorial contest, generally fair and warm weather thruout the state and an appropriate registration of 1,665,000 voters were factors that seemed likely to bring out an unprecedented vote in Indiana today. Klan support was conceded to favor Ed Jackson, Republican candidate for governor, against Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, the Democratic nominee.

STREET ASSESSMENTS

Special assessments for the improvement of eight streets by paving were authorized Monday night by commissioners. The streets named were: Holmes-av, Central-av, Robb-Av, Second-st, Grand-av, State-st, Wayne-st and S. Union-st.

VOTE IS HEAVY

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Springlike weather greeted the voters of West Virginia today as they went to the polls to cast what political leaders confidently predicted would be the largest vote in the history of the state. Unusual interest has been manifest in the election because for the first time the state has a native son, John W. Davis, leading one of the major party tickets.

STAFF MEETS

DELPHOS — Advertising staff of the "Delphi," Delphos High school year book, held a meeting at the Jefferson-bldg Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of making a report on the advertising space that has been solicited for the annual. At least $300 must be raised, Principal D. M. King has announced.

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR
Found Strength by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and then in the Change of Life it did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a weakness I had for a year and a half. It has strengthened me and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I have the opportunity. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose."—Mrs. HARRY COULOM, 984 North Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit

For the relief of female weakness, pains and backache, nervousness and irregularities, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine.

Its worth is thoroughly established by such letters as the above. There are women everywhere, who, having received benefit, gladly tell other women about it. For sale by druggists everywhere.
